PENN STATE ATHLETIC EXCELLENCE

Penn State has one of the nation's most successful athletic departments. Boasting one of the largest intercollegiate athletic programs in the nation, Penn State's 800 student-athletes participate in 15 men's and 14 women's sports. All 29 programs are funded at 100 percent scholarship levels. The breadth of the program has been matched by its outstanding achievements:

58 NATIONAL TEAM TITLES: Penn State has won 58 National Team Championships in 14 sports.

47 BIG TEN CHAMPIONSHIPS: Penn State has earned 38 regular season and nine tournament titles in its initial 13 years in the Big Ten Conference.

121 ACADEMIC ALL-AMERICANS: Penn State student-athletes have earned 78 Academic All-America citations in the last 13 years and 121 overall, third-highest in the nation. Penn State student-athletes have an 87 percent Graduation Success Rate (GSR), 10 points higher than the national average, according to the NCAA.

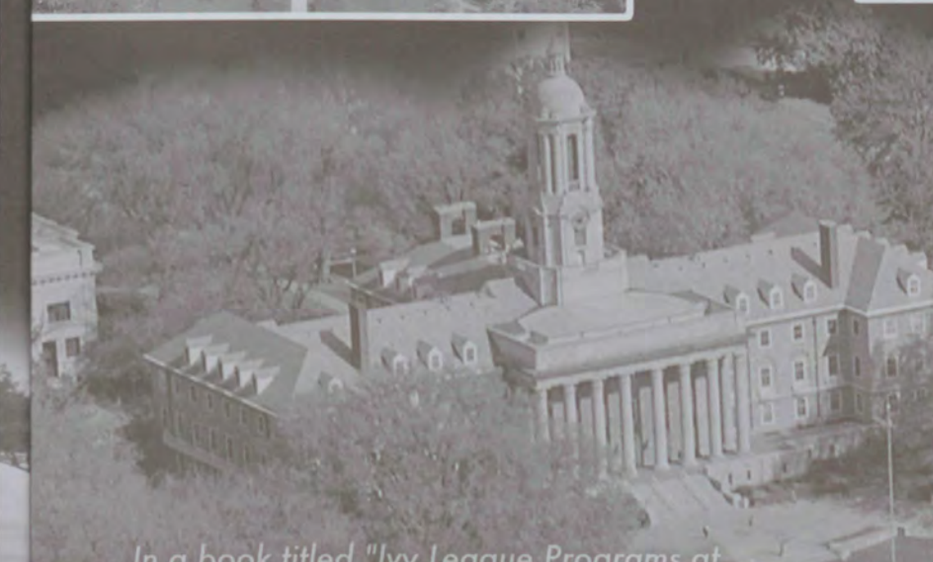
RECORD ACADEMIC ALL-BIG TEN SELECTIONS: Penn State's 243 Academic All-Big Ten selections in 2005-06 were its third highest total ever. Over the past 12 years Penn State leads all Big Ten institutions with 2,553 academic all-conference honorees.

Penn State's 2005-06 Big Ten Championships:

- Field Hockey
- Football
- Men's Soccer
- Women's Soccer
- Women's Swimming & Diving
- Women's Volleyball

The men's soccer team won its third Big Ten title in 2005, one of a school record six teams to win Big Ten Championships in 2005-06. Penn State became the first school to capture five conference titles in the fall season.

A BEAUTIFUL CAMPUS



In a book titled "Ivy League Programs at State School Prices," Penn State is described as one of six public institutions that offers superior educational opportunities comparable to their Ivy League counterparts, but at a lower cost.

Nestled in the Nittany Valley, the Penn State campus has a charm that easily is identified. The CBS Television show "60 Minutes" once described Penn State as the ideal setting for any Hollywood director doing a film on college life.

Penn State was chartered in 1855 when a faculty of four taught its first students, 11 of whom graduated in 1861. Classes were held in Old Main, which also served as a dormitory. A rebuilt Old Main now is the site of the offices of the University administration, including Dr. Graham Spanier, who became Penn State's 16th president in 1995.

While Old Main once was all that existed of Penn State, today it sits in the middle of 15,984 acres that make up the University Park campus. Five-hundred-and-forty acres, which includes more than 12,000 trees, are devoted to classrooms and office buildings, residence halls and laboratories, with more than 750 buildings comprising the main campus.

From Old Main to Mount Nittany...from Pattee Library to the Creamery...from the new Business and Information Sciences and Technology buildings, the Palmer Museum of Art or the Bryce Jordan Center, Penn State's campus has a picture postcard look.

Morgan Center Mission

Central to the mission of Intercollegiate Athletics is the opportunity for student-athletes to experience a well-rounded educational program at The Pennsylvania State University. The mission of the Morgan Academic Support Center for Student-Athletes is to provide appropriate academic support services and University Faculty Senate, NCAA, and Big Ten Conference academic eligibility information to all student-athletes. These services and information should assist student-athletes in achieving their academic goals while participating in a demanding NCAA Division I intercollegiate athletic program. These services should also ensure progress toward graduation through timely completion of degree requirements for baccalaureate and graduate programs.

Academic Counseling

Student-athletes are assigned individual counselors who provide them with advice on academics, academic planning, and career choices, as well as keeping them informed about NCAA, Big Ten and Penn State regulations that may affect them.

Sports Psychology - Getting Focused

A sport psychologist provides counseling and support to student-athletes in the areas of mental preparation strategies for training and competition, motivation and meaningful goal setting, visualization and performance planning, concentration and mental focusing, coping skill strategies for dealing with adversity, and, in general, issues pertaining to self-esteem development and student-athlete welfare.

Nagle CHAMPS / Life Skills Program

1998 NCAA Program of Excellence Award Winner

The Nagle CHAMPS (Challenging Athletes' Minds for Personal Success)/Life Skills Program has been a model program and a consulting resource for the NCAA since its inception in 1989. The Life Skills Program was developed to better prepare student-athletes for the challenges of life beyond the athletic arena.

Speakers Bureau

The Speaker's Bureau Program provides Penn State student-athletes with the opportunity to develop and utilize public presentation skills while giving back to the community.

Penn Pal Program - Keeping in Touch

The "Penn" Pal Program enables student-athletes to correspond, on a monthly basis, with fourth-, fifth-, and sixth-grade students in local school districts.

Shadow Program

The goal of the program is give elementary and middle school students the opportunity to tour campus, visit college classes, and interact with student-athletes on a one-to-one basis.

THON

Dance Marathon, often referred to as THON, is the largest student-run philanthropy in the nation, raising more than $34 million for the Four Diamonds Fund and children's cancer research.

SAAB

The Student-Athlete Advisory Board (SAAB) consists of one voting member and one or more alternates from each of Penn State's 29 varsity athletic teams. SAAB meets monthly to discuss any new developments within the NCAA, Big Ten Conference, and the University that affect the student-athletes at Penn State.

Morgan Center Programs and Functions:

Career Development: Preparing For the Future

This Program offers a variety of services to aid student-athletes in making decisions regarding their choice of major, resumé and cover letter writing, career planning, and gaining professional employment.

Study Enhancement: Preparing for Class

Study enhancement sessions are mandatory for all first-year student-athletes and are available to upperclassmen as well.

Tutoring Program - A Helping Hand

The Morgan Academic Support Center offers free tutoring assistance to all student-athletes.

Mentor Program

The MASCSA Mentor Program is designed to help student-athletes on their road to success by assisting in the development of transferable study skills.

Athletic Honor Society

The Athletic Honor Society, Spiritus Leonius, recognizes student-athletes for outstanding performance in athletics, academics, leadership, and community service.

• OH	• MH	• S, Opp.

Players rotate in a clockwise direction and serve when they are in the right back position. The libero (wearing a different color jersey) may take the place of any of the three backrow players and does not count as a team substitution.

Position Breakdown:

MH: Middle hitter, generally attacks from middle front
DS: Defensive Specialist, a substitution in the backrow for serving, passing and defensive purposes
S: Setter, generally handles the second contact to distribute the ball to the hitters, may only attack and block when in the front row
L: Libero, a backrow player concentrated on passing and defense; may serve; may not attack the ball above the height of the net; wears a different colored jersey to help distinguish "on-the-fly" entry into the game.

2006 SCHEDULE

SCHEDULE NOTES

• Matches against nine teams that competed in the 2005 NCAA Tournament, including seven that were listed in the final poll by the American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA), highlight the 2006 Penn State women's volleyball schedule.

From the final AVCA poll, Penn State will play Missouri (No. 8), Wisconsin (No. 10), Texas (No. 16), Purdue (No. 17), Minnesota (No. 21), Ohio State (No. 23) and Northwestern, who received votes in the poll. The Nittany Lions will also square off against NCAA Tournament participants Duke and LSU.

• Penn State holds a 351-62 (.850) record over opponents it will face during the 2006 regular season, including a 259-41 (.863) Big Ten record since joining the conference for the 1991 season.

• The 2006 slate features two first-time meetings in women's volleyball, as the Nittany Lions take on Nicholls State and Tennessee State to begin the series history.

• The Nittany Lions open up the season at the LSU Classic in Baton Rouge, La., against Nicholls State, Rice and the host Tigers on Aug. 25-26 and then host the Penn State Invitational on Sept. 1-2 with Eastern Kentucky, West Virginia and Duke.

The squad will travel to Austin, Texas for the Texas Classic on Sept. 7-8 featuring Top 20 matchups with Missouri and the host Longhorns before closing out the non-conference portion of the schedule with the Penn State Classic on Sept. 15-16, taking on Tennessee State, Lehigh and Miami (Ohio). The Nittany Lions open up Big Ten play at home against Ohio State on Wednesday, Sept. 20.

"Versatile with youthful experience" is a phrase that could be used to describe the 2006 Penn State women's volleyball team. "Passionate and hardworking with a common goal" is another one. But however the team is described, one thing is for certain: Every day is another day closer to the ultimate goals, the Big Ten and NCAA titles.

Returning for the Nittany Lions are 13 members of last season's 31-3 Big Ten Championship squad that went undefeated at 20-0 in the conference. Penn State will have to contend with the loss of key four-year starters in three-time AVCA All-America setter Sam Tortorello and 2005 Big Ten Defensive Player of the Year libero Kaleena Walters. But aiding in the transition will be the top recruiting class in the nation, featuring four Gatorade Players of the Year from their respective states.

"It's a new era and that's what I love about college athletics," said head coach Russ Rose, who will be entering his 28th season in Happy Valley. "I look at it as, we have some open positions. If you work hard and make a great contribution and the team responds, then we'll go on from there."

OUTSIDE HITTER

One of the greatest strengths of the 2006 squad will be the outside hitter positions. With numerous options and personnel to choose from, the Nittany Lions should prove to be very dangerous. Headlining the ensemble is sophomore Nicole Fawcett, last year chosen as the AVCA National and Big Ten Freshman of the Year. Joining her will be 2006 Gatorade National High School Player of the Year freshman Megan Hodge and a host of others, including seniors Cassy Salyer and Ashley Fidler, junior Kate Price, sophomore Laura Holloway and freshmen Blair Brown and Alisha Glass.

"Certainly it should be an area of strength when it comes to attacking," stated Rose. "Nicole and Megan are a very strong tandem offensively and the ball-handling skills and variety that Katie, Laura and Ashley offer give us some balance with other players when it comes to trying to match-up with various opponents. The right side position with Cassy, Blair and Alisha is also strong because we will have a variety of ways to attack an opponent."

Last season, Nicole Fawcett led the Lions and ranked third in the Big Ten with an average of 4.51 kills per game on .309 hitting, also ranking second in the league in conference-only matches with 4.53 kills per game. She produced the team-high in kills on 28 occasions and recorded 31 double-digit kill matches, including a career-high 26 kills at Hawaii. Her 496 kills rank 11th on the single-season record chart and her 4.51 kills per game average ranks seventh all-time for a season. She also became the first Penn State freshman to earn Big Ten Player of the Week honors, doing so three times in her initial season.

"I thought Nicole had the full competitive experience as a freshman," said Rose. "She is a terrific offensive player who gets on the ball quick, hits the ball high and hard and has a true hitter's mentality."

Megan Hodge enters her first season as perhaps the most highly-touted recruit in Penn State volleyball history. In July of 2006, Hodge was one of five finalists for the Gatorade National Female High School Athlete of the Year Award, already having been selected as the Gatorade National and North Carolina State Player of Year. Hailing from Riverside High School in Durham, N.C., Hodge was also voted the 2006 National High School Senior Athlete of the Year by the National High School Coaches Association. She has competed with the U.S. Junior and Youth National Teams for three years and also earned 2005-06 PrepVolleyball High School All-American and Top Senior Ace honors. Hodge posted career totals of 1,596 kills, 319 blocks, 647 digs, 286 aces and 130 assists in her scholastic tenure and as a member of the Triangle 18's club team, was selected as an All-American at the 2006 AAU Junior National Championships.

"What I especially like about Megan is that she is a young person with an incredible upside, especially offensively," said Rose. "I believe that she is really going to blossom in our program, where she knows every person has a specific role to play and the final result of a match isn't going to be based on her having to carry the team."

Junior Kate Price could have various roles on the 2006 team, with one of those as an outside hitter. The 2004 Big Ten Freshman of the Year, Price last year averaged 2.69 kills per game, 0.21 service aces per game, 2.13 digs per game and 0.55 blocks per game as an outside hitter and primary passer. She was one of four players in double-digit kills (10) versus Hawaii at the AVCA/NACWAA Showcase, ending the year with 10 double-digit kill matches.

"Katie is a key player for this team as she was one of our primary passers last year and will have additional responsibilities this year," said Rose. "Katie is a great passer and I think has the team's best volleyball IQ from playing the game for such a long time. She has always been the go-to hitter on her previous teams, and she is very open to helping this team, even if that means giving some swings back to the younger players."

Sophomore Laura Holloway played in 29 matches and 70 games last year, averaging 1.26 kills per game on .227 hitting. She saw her first collegiate action and recorded her first collegiate kill against Stanford at the AVCA/NACWAA Showcase and posted a career-high 14 kills on .440 hitting against Seton Hall. Holloway recorded her first career double-double with 14 kills and 11 digs versus Purdue and also provided 0.90 digs per game and 0.39 blocks per game, tallying at least one dig in 24 matches, including 16 multiple-dig contests.

"Laura is a confident, competent player who needs to adjust to the demands of the college game," stated Rose. "She has a terrific volleyball resume and I would hope that in her sophomore season, we get to see some more flashes of the type of player she was as a high school and club athlete. Her strengths are that she can play left side or right side and she is experienced as a primary ball-handler."

Senior Ashley Fidler is a utility player for the Nittany Lions, able to play multiple front row positions as well as contribute as a defensive and serving specialist. Last season she played in 29 matches and 57 games, recording an ace in seven matches, posting at least one dig in 15 matches and providing 10 multiple-dig contests.

"Ashley had a great spring and summer and is committed to making her senior year a memorable one," said Rose. "She is always in great shape with a solid volleyball IQ and plays the game hard. Hopefully there will be opportunities for her to showcase her talents."

One of two team captains, senior Cassy Salyer is another versatile player who can provide multiple options for the Nittany Lions. Salyer started last season in the middle but moved to the right side for a majority of the year. She averaged 2.59 kills per game on .338 hitting with 0.46 digs per game and 0.99 blocks per game for the year, posting 12 double-digit kill matches and recording 29 matches with five or more kills. She tied her season high with 17 kills on .467 hitting versus Wisconsin and had at least one block in 32 matches, with three or more blocks in 21 contests.

"A great deal of the success that we may have and can hope for this season will be based on Cassy's impact offensively, blocking-wise and her leadership skills," said Rose. "Cassy has always been a team player and has embraced the opportunity to be a team leader."

Blair Brown begins her first season with the squad, coming to Penn State as a two-time Virginia Gatorade Player of the Year. A native of Purcellville, Va., Brown is a two-time PrepVolleyball All-American (2004 and 2005) and ranked seventh on the PrepVolleyball Top Ten Senior Aces list. Also a two-time Region Player of the Year, Brown led her Loudoun Valley High School team to a 93-14 scholastic team record and ended her career as the Virginia State record holder with 1,463 career kills and 307 solo blocks.

"Blair, in my opinion, has a high upside and the unknown will be determined by how she handles the transition from high school and club to the physical demands of the college game," said Rose. "She is quick, jumps high and will be a strong blocker upon arrival and has good ball-control skills and a nice touch on the ball."

Alisha Glass joins the Nittany Lion team already having played multiple positions throughout her volleyball career, including outside hitter. The Michigan Gatorade Player of the Year, Glass led her Leland High School squad to the 2006 Class D state championship, producing a single-match record of 48 kills in the title contest. A four-time first team all-state selection, Glass is the National and State High School record holder in season aces (296), career aces (937) and career kills (3,584) and ranked sixth on PrepVolleyball's Senior Aces list. During her scholastic career, she attacked at a .440 clip while also contributing 1,816 digs and 680 blocks.

"I have contended from the beginning when I recruited Alisha that I believe she is a special talent and has all of the tools to be a player who needs to be on the floor all the time," said Rose. "Certainly, her high school records will verify that she is a strong offensive player, both in serving and at the net, and I feel as a freshman that Alisha will have the opportunity to make an impact on the outcome of some of our matches."

MIDDLE HITTER

Both starting middles from last season return to the lineup for the 2006 campaign. Junior Melissa Walbridge and sophomore Christa Harmotto, who missed the end of the season with a knee injury, will both continue to provide the dual threats of potent offense and strong blocking to aid the Nittany Lions. Also possibly contributing in the middle will be Cassy Salyer and Blair Brown, who have both played middle during their respective careers.

"Mel and Christa are experienced and strong and Blair and Cassy will be individuals who will train both in the middle and on the right side to give us needed depth," said Rose.

A second team AVCA All-America and First Team All-Big Ten selection in 2005, Walbridge led the team and the Big Ten and ranked sixth in the nation in hitting percentage (.413), also good for seventh on the Penn State single-season record chart. She ranked second on the team in blocks per game with 1.48, and in conference-only matches, averaged 2.65 kills per game while hitting .449, more than 50 percentage points higher than the next competitor. Walbridge also posted a league-leading 1.63 blocks per game in Big Ten-only contests, recording at least one block in every match of the season, including 26 matches of three or more blocks and 14 matches of five or more blocks. An all-around player, she also led the team with 29 service aces.

"Mel continues her development as a complete volleyball player," said Rose. "She has had two years of being at the top of the conference in hitting and blocking and I feel she is one of the best read-blockers that we've had in the program."

The second of two team captains for 2006, last year Harmotto became only the fourth freshman in Penn State history to earn First Team All-Big Ten honors. She ranked second on the team and third in the Big Ten in hitting percentage (.356), including hitting .378 for third in conference-only matches. She produced an average of 2.96 kills per game, good for second on the team, while leading the team in blocking with 1.50 blocks per game, good for 12th on the single-season record chart. Harmotto recorded 25 matches with three or more blocks, including 14 matches with five or more blocks.

"I thought at times last year that Christa was as good at the net as any player we've had during my tenure, both offensively and defensively," stated Rose. "Her strengths are that she's quick and powerful and works very hard to get herself in a position to be a quality attacker. She is an extremely strong blocker in the air who wants to block every ball."

SETTER

In contrast to the last four years, the setting position provides perhaps the biggest question mark in terms of the lineup, with three viable options competing for playing time. Freshmen Jessica Yanz and Alisha Glass and junior Ann Naylor, or a combination of the three, will direct the Nittany Lion offense this year.

"Are we going to be running a multi-faceted setter program with Jess, Alisha and Ann all setting or some other option? I don't know," said Rose. "I know Jess will come in as the most well-trained of the three. Alisha certainly is a terrific prototype for the 6-2 offense and Ann has some experience setting these players in the spring and wants to compete for playing time. It's certainly a key area and an area for excitement, that's why we recruited two setters.

"[Three-time All-American] Sam [Tortorello] didn't miss many games during her four years and we didn't have a real 'Plan B' in case of injury with Sam," Rose continued. "I always felt that so much of our success was based on the fact that Sam was the best setter in the country and if she had gotten hurt, we would have been in trouble because we lost the best setter in the country, not because Sam got hurt and we didn't have another setter on hand. No team would have had a suitable replacement for someone with the impact that Sam made on our program. I loved my time with Sam and I have nothing but positive thoughts on her and wish her the best in her career with USA Volleyball, but I look forward to the positive impact that these young people have coming into our program."

Yanz, the 2006 Illinois Gatorade Player of the Year, enters the season after having led her Naperville Central (Ill.) High School team to the 2005 Class AA State Championship with a 39-4 record. The Chicago Sun-Times Player of the Year for volleyball in 2005, Yanz ended her scholastic career with a school-record 2,705 assists, including a school-record 902 during her senior campaign. She is a three-time AAU All-American and was named "Best Setter" at the 2004 and 2006 National Junior Classic with her Sports Performance Club team, where she was a member for five years.

"Jess has demonstrated that she is the type of player who makes a great impact on all of the teams she has played on, whether it is her high school team in the state championship or her club team at nationals," said Rose. "She is a primary setter and a strong leader. The training that the setters, in particular, get as part of the Sports Performance club program is top-rate."

In addition to Glass' offensive accolades, she was a member of the 2005 U.S. Youth National A2 Team and played on the USA Red squad that won the gold medal at the HP Championships in Austin, Texas, where she also received the "Best Setter" award. Glass also started on the 2004 USA Youth National Team that won the gold medal in Puerto Rico at the NORCECA Games, where she was recognized as "Best Server."

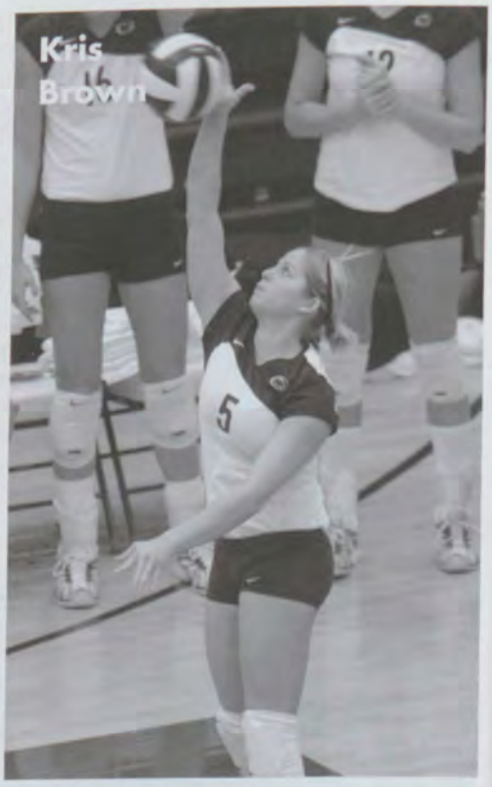
Naylor has been the backup setter for the last two years and has also been a serving and defensive specialist for the Nittany Lions. Last year she saw action in 19 matches and 22 games and recorded career-high four digs against Western Michigan at the Hawaiian Airlines Classic, again tying that mark against Pennsylvania.

"Ann did a very nice job in the spring setting for us and she has continued that throughout the summer," said Rose. "She wins our long distance runs as well as the sprints and is a very competitive individual. She has good experience and has played a great deal of volleyball."

LIBERO/DEFENSIVE SPECIALIST

The second-largest void to fill will be at the libero position with the loss of 2005 Big Ten Defensive Player of the Year Kaleena Walters, who left Happy Valley as the all-time career digs leader and owning the top two single-season records for digs per game. Looking to fill Walters' shoes will be a host of individuals, including senior Kris Brown, junior Kate Price and sophomores Laura Holloway, Joanie Guman and Roberta Holehouse.

"Kaleena [Walters] never missed a game in four years and smiled from the first day I met her to the last match she played," stated Rose. "Her impact was certainly a grand one. We have a variety of people in Roberta, Joanie, Kris, Laura or Katie who may get a shot at the libero position. I'm not sure who's going to play that position, I don't have anyone penciled in. That's why you have preseason."



Kris Brown played in all 34 matches last season as a passing and defensive specialist, recording at least two digs in 31 matches and reaching double-digit dig numbers five times. She averaged 1.87 digs per game and had her "best weekend since she's been at Penn State" according to head coach Russ Rose with 11 digs against Illinois and a career-high 16 versus Purdue for an average of 3.36 digs per game. She also posted at least one ace in 15 matches, including five of the last seven contests.

"Kris is a good server and is a competitive player who cares about the team, and when she gets that tomboy attitude out there on the court, she is a contributing player and a fan favorite," said Rose. "Her knowledge of the game and willingness to play aggressively will hopefully pay dividends."

Price was one of two primary passers last year with Walters. She had at least four digs in 24 matches of the year and provided double-digit dig figures in seven contests, including the last three of the season.

"Katie has indicated that playing libero is not her first choice, but she wants to do what helps the team," said Rose. "I know Katie plays the game hard and she brings a lot of tools to the table that can allow a team to be successful. Katie has multiple talents and it is our job to channel her in the right position."

Guman saw action in 18 matches and 22 games, recording her first career dig versus Western Michigan at the Hawaiian Airlines Classic and ending the match with seven, which still stands as her career high mark. She averaged 0.73 digs per game and 0.18 service aces per game, providing at least one dig in seven matches.

"Joanie has good skills and her greatest strength is that she's incredibly tough," said Rose. "If we can continue to get her serve to be more productive, we'll certainly expect to be able to get her time in the back row and she'll be able to make an impact. She's a hard-nosed competitor and plays the game with a passion."

Holehouse played in 59 games and 33 matches as a serving and defensive specialist. She tallied a career-high three service aces against Southern California and recorded at least one ace in eight matches. Holehouse also provided a dig in 14 matches and had three or more digs on six occasions.

"Roberta has the opportunity to play a key role on this year's team," said Rose. "She has the team's best jump serve, is very quick to the ball and a fearless digger, and has experience as an all-around player, similar to Kaleena."

HEAD COACH RUSS ROSE

Russ Rose

➤ 28th Year at Penn State ➤ Career Record: 859-154
➤ Alma Mater: George Williams, 1975

Heading one of the most successful programs in the country, Russ Rose passes along the confidence and character he has gained during his tenure in Happy Valley.

It is a confidence not gleaned from the shine of numerous trophies and accolades bestowed upon the coach and the program, though no one would question if it was. In 27 seasons at Penn State, Rose has collected wins at a staggering pace. Never having posted less than 22 wins in a season, he earned his 800th career victory at Penn State on Sept. 3, 2004, with a win over Rutgers (only the sixth Division I coach to reach the milestone), has collected nine Big Ten titles in 15 years and has firmly entrenched the Nittany Lions among the elite programs in the nation.

In 2003, Rose celebrated 25 years of coaching at Penn State. He was honored with a bench outside of the post office sponsored by the Penn State Booster Club and surprised with a gathering of more than 40 former players and members of the program, who offered their thoughts and insights on Rose and his career.

"It was my sophomore year when he said 'When you leave this gym, when you finish your career, every day you leave here, you should feel like you gave 110 percent,'" said former player Christy Cochran (1995-98). "And that's exactly it. If you put your career in his hands, you'll be great."

Rose's influence in the lives of his former players is evident. "I truly miss him," said four-time All-American Bonnie Bremner (1996-99). "I don't even miss playing, I just miss seeing him every day."

However, Rose does not reflect on past successes. "Fans can get spoiled very quickly in athletics and that's a problem," Rose said. "It's not easy to be successful in anything and when people get accustomed to specific results, it sometimes loses its effect on the players and they forget what it really takes to succeed and how important the journey really should be to their development. The challenge is in getting players who want to become good instead of attending a school because the team is good."

Instead, Rose addresses each new team and season on its own terms and his confidence lies in the ability and work ethic of his current players and coaching staff.

"I'm not much of a believer in predicting a team's level of success," Rose said. "I can only state that we're going to do our best. If we're good enough to win matches then we're going to win matches, but if we lose it's not going to be because we didn't prepare and work hard and it's not going to be because we rested on our program's previous laurels."

For a good example of this statement, look no further than the 1999 season. Following two consecutive campaigns which saw the Lions reach the title match of the NCAA Tournament only to fall in defeat, the team returned to the NCAA Tourney finale in 1999 and captured the first National Championship in the program's history with a 3-0 sweep over top-ranked Stanford. The 1999 season also saw Rose lead Penn State to its second-consecutive 20-0 record in Big Ten play (and fourth straight conference title), becoming the first team in conference history to pull off the feat. In addition, the 1999 Nittany Lions extended their current NCAA record home-match winning streak to 80 straight (extended to 87 in 2000), eclipsing the previous standard of 58 set by Florida from 1990-94. The Lions streak was finally put to a halt at 87 matches with a loss versus Minnesota on Sept. 29, 2000. Penn State had last dropped a match at Rec Hall on Nov. 24, 1994, when they suffered a 3-2 setback to Illinois, a span of over five seasons.

Rose has a 27-year Penn State record of 859-154 (.848), making him among the winningest active Division I coaches.

Rose's Coaching Honors

- 2005 USA Volleyball All-Time Great Coach Honoree
- 2000 United States Olympic Committee Coach of the Year
- Two-time AVCA Coach of the Year 1990, 1997
- Three-time Volleyball Monthly Coach of the Year 1990, 1993, 1999
- Four-time NCAA Mideast Region Coach of the Year 1990, 1992, 1993, 1994
- Seven-time Big Ten Conference Coach of the Year 1992, 1993, 1996, 1997 (co), 1998, 2003 (co), 2005
- District II Coach of the Year 1996
- Six-time Atlantic 10 Coach of the Year
- Four-time Northeast Region Coach of the Year

After posting a runner-up finish in 1997, the Lions made it back to the NCAA Championship match in 1998. The team cruised through the regular season with a 30-0 mark with 28 of those coming in three games. Penn State also became only the second school to close out the Big Ten schedule with a perfect 20-0 mark.

After winning its fifth Big Ten title, Penn State hosted the NCAA First and Second Rounds and the Central Regional. They swept past Bucknell, Clemson, Louisville and Brigham Young to earn a spot in the school's fourth national semifinal. Once they reached Madison, Wis., the season ended much like 1997. Penn State defeated Nebraska 3-1 to advance to the national championship match. And once again, the Lions had to rally from a 0-2 deficit to force a fifth game only to come up short against Long Beach State for the NCAA title.

However, perhaps nowhere has Rose's infusion of confidence been more evident than in the two other years when he led an inexperienced team with one starting senior and a rookie setter deep into the postseason.

In 1996, the Lions started out 15-0, before finishing the regular season with a 29-2 mark and a share of the Big Ten title, Rose's third in six seasons in the conference. The squad that took the court in the NCAA tournament was comprised of one senior, one junior, one sophomore and three freshman. That talented group came two points from knocking off Nebraska at home, in a match to go to the national semifinal. Penn State finished the campaign with a 31-3 record and a final ranking of No. 5. Half of those starters, Bonnie Bremner, Angie Kammer and Terri Zemaitis, earned All-America honors, while Bremner became Penn State's first Big Ten Freshman of the Year for her play at setter.

NINE BIG TEN CHAMPIONSHIPS IN 15 YEARS

The 1995 squad posted a 27-8 record and a No. 8 final national ranking. Rose's ability to convey a belief in his players and to instill an uncompromising work ethic led to the Nittany Lions' sixth-straight appearance in the NCAA "Sweet 16" and a third-place finish in the Big Ten. Along the way he guided Penn State's third Big Ten Player of the Year in just five seasons in the conference as sophomore Zemaitis captured the award.

"I want the players to have a good experience — I want them to enjoy the many opportunities available at Penn State, but clearly I want them to know that they've come to a competitive, disciplined program and we're going to work hard," Rose said. "And without question have some fun along the way.

"We're not fanatics, and I want the players to be happy. It goes without saying that it is easier to be happy when you're winning than when you're losing. So, the staff will have to provide them with the necessary direction and opportunities and hope they remain healthy enough to see if we can make a run at winning as many matches as possible."

That is something that has never been a problem for the coach. In his 27 seasons at Penn State, Rose's record is 859-154, an .848 winning percentage that ranks second nationally among active coaches. His squads have secured 30 or more wins in a season 19 times and 36 or more victories six times.

In 1994, Rose coached the Nittany Lions to a second straight NCAA national semifinal appearance and picked up his 500th career win early in the season. Placing second in the Big Ten with a 17-3 conference mark, the Nittany Lions posted a 31-4 ledger on the year and ended the regular-season ranked No. 5, at the time their highest regular-season finish ever. Season highlights included beating national runner-up and perennial powerhouse UCLA at the Volleyball Monthly Invitational and stunning No. 1-ranked and undefeated Nebraska in Lincoln in front of a full house at the NCAA Mideast Regional final to advance to their second straight national semifinal.

Rose added to an already crowded trophy case by picking up the NCAA Mideast Region Coach of the Year honor for the fourth time.

Still, Rose has had more to do with Penn State's success on the court than he's willing to admit.

"I think that it's a reflection of my years of service and the caliber of players and staff we've attracted in the past," Rose said. "When you retire from coaching, people will look and see the success you had, but I'd like to be evaluated on the success of my players, their feel for their experience at Penn State and the growth that the program has had since the time I arrived here. We had three in-state scholarships and hand-me-down basketball jerseys when I arrived at Penn State. I think that's more of a reflection of what I was hoping to accomplish when I entered the profession. I'd rather be remembered for the type of parent I want to be for my children than how many games we won while I was at Penn State."

Yet, the on-the-court accomplishments do speak volumes. In 1993, another dream season, the Nittany Lions surged into their third year of Big Ten play and won their second consecutive conference title. At the NCAA Tournament, the team strung together four victories and earned the right to play for the National Championship against Long Beach State. Rose puts the success in proper perspective.

> "I have been involved here for a long time, but I don't want to take the major responsibility for the success because I know one thing for sure, and that is you can't get where we are today without the support of the administration. You need to have good leadership and support."

"There are a large number of excellent coaches at great schools that have yet to break into the national semifinals. There are a small number of teams that have made it there, and fewer yet that have reached the final match. I won't look at it (reaching the final match) other than it was a great ride that the players took us on and it reinforced that there's validity to how I've run the program here at Penn State.

HEAD COACH RUSS ROSE

"The players need to understand what it takes to be successful and they need to have fun. We showed that winning can be fun and that it isn't necessary to change in a stressful environment. Every team starts with the same dream but few programs can really talk about competing for a chance to win a National Championship."

Rose's formula for success was recognized by the media and his coaching peers when he garnered the triple-crown of coaching accolades in 1993 as he did in 1990. Volleyball Monthly named Rose the National Coach of the Year and he also was picked as the NCAA Mideast Region and the Big Ten Conference Coach of the Year.

It was the second time Rose was honored nationally (1990), and the second straight year the Big Ten voted for the Nittany Lion leader. In addition, he has been awarded Northeast Region Coach of the Year four times, the Atlantic 10 Conference Coach of the Year six times and was District II's top coach in 1996.

"Coach is a great guy," confided three time All-American Salima Davidson, who spent time as the captain and starting setter on the U.S. National Team. "He's very straight-forward and to the point, which is what I like. The thing about him is that you can talk to him and he can help you with any problems you might have. Then, on the court, he's all business. I like that combination."

Rose's athletes have earned 43 First Team All-Big Ten honors in 15 years and have excelled off the court as well, earning 96 Academic All-Big Ten accolades.

So does former Nittany Lion outside hitter and former volunteer assistant coach Jen Reimers. "You learn how to be a better person and a better player," she said about Rose's teaching ability. "You learn how to work with everybody else."

"I like the fact that he comes out and tells you exactly how it is," said Penn State All-American Laura Cook (1991-94). "He bases a lot of our experience on the court to life and life after volleyball."

"I really enjoyed the experience I had while playing for Coach Rose," said All-American Katie Schumacher (1998-01). "I learned a lot, both on and off the court. He is a great teacher and is well-respected around the nation."

Many athletes have thrived under Rose's tutelage as witnessed by the 24 different All-Americans (earning 45 selections in all) and 24 first team All-Big Ten players (earning 43 selections in all) he has coached. In 1999, Lauren Cacciamani was named Big Ten Player of the Year, the Big Ten Female Athlete of the Year and the Honda Award winner. Bonnie Bremner and Katie Schumacher joined Cacciamani as All-Big Ten selections in 1999. Bremner won back-to-back Big Ten Player of the Year honors in 1997 and 1998. Amanda Rome and Carrie Schonveld were recognized with honorable mention All-Big Ten status, while Mishka Levy was named to the conference's All-Freshman squad. Penn State also placed six players on the Academic All-Big Ten Team in 1999, as Bremner, Cacciamani, Kalna Miller, Schonveld, Rome and Dawn Ippolito were honored.

In 2000, Schumacher repeated as an All-Big Ten performer, while Levy earned first-team status for the initial time in her career. Amanda Rome was recognized with honorable mention all-conference status after helping lead Penn State to a 30-6 record and its 11th consecutive NCAA regional appearance in 2000. In addition, Rome, Ippolito, Shannon Bortner, Robyn Guokas, Erin Iceman and Hilary Sexton were named Academic All-Big Ten.

Even with its 22-8 season in 2001, Penn State advanced to the NCAA Tournament and garnered 20 wins in a season for the 26th straight year. Schumacher earned first team All-Big Ten honors while Levy picked up honorable mention accolades. Seven Lions earned Academic All-Big Ten recognition during the 2001 campaign. Rome, Iceman, Guokas, Bortner, Sexton, Tabitha Eshleman and Emily Gerega were all recognized for their scholastic and athletic achievements.

In 2002, Rose led a young squad with a freshman setter to a second place finish in the conference and the school's 22nd consecutive NCAA Tournament. Freshman Sam Tortorello earned Penn State's second ever Big Ten Freshman of the Year accolade and junior Cara Smith picked up second team All-America honors after leading the nation in hitting percentage for most of the season. The Nittany Lions also excelled in the classroom, with a conference-high nine athletes garnering Academic All-Big Ten honors.

The squad picked up its seventh Big Ten title in 2003 with a team that was picked to finish second in the conference preseason poll. Seniors Cara Smith and Erin Iceman and sophomore Sam Tortorello were named first team All-Big Ten on a squad that fin-

Smith, Tortorello and Iceman picked up AVCA All-America honors with Smith earning first team accolades, Tortorello being named to the second team and Iceman picking up honorable mention honors.

Again picked to finish second in the Big Ten in 2004, Rose's squad ended the non-conference portion of their schedule with an unblemished 9-0 record that included a come-from-behind five-game victory at eventual-National Champion Stanford. Top-ranked Minnesota handed the Nittany Lions their first loss of the season in five games at Rec Hall and just five matches later, No. 7 Ohio State also defeated Penn State at home in five games. With a renewed sense of pride following the two losses at home, the Nittany Lions caught fire and won their next 11 matches, including four-game wins over the Gophers and Buckeyes. A three-game win at Michigan on Nov. 27 gave Rose and the Nittany Lions their eighth Big Ten title in 14 years and advanced them to their 24th consecutive NCAA Tournament, where they fell to UCLA at the NCAA Regional Semifinal in Seattle, Wash.

Junior Sam Tortorello and senior Syndie Nadeau earned AVCA All-America honors as Tortorello was named to the first team and Nadeau picked up second team accolades. Junior libero Kaleena Walters joined Tortorello and Nadeau on the All-Big Ten squad as freshman Kate Price was named the Big Ten Freshman of the Year. Tortorello was also a finalist for the Honda Award, given to the top female collegiate athlete in the country in each sport. Penn State also produced four Academic All-Big Ten honorees.

The streak continued as the Nittany Lions claimed their third consecutive Big Ten title with an unblemished 20-0 league record, only the sixth time since 1985 that the champion has been perfect. In addition to dropping only three individual games during the conference season, Penn State swept all four major honors. Rose earned his seventh Big Ten Coach of the Year award as senior setter Sam Tortorello was named the Player of the Year, senior libero Kaleena Walters earned Defensive Player of the Year honors and Nicole Fawcett was tabbed as the Freshman of the Year, marking the fourth time in as many years that a Nittany Lion won the award (Tortorello picked it up in 2002, Cassy Salyer in 2003 and Kate Price in 2004).

On the national scale, Fawcett earned AVCA National Freshman of the Year and AVCA Second Team All-America accolades as Tortorello was named an AVCA First Team All-American, sophomore Melissa Walbridge picked up Second Team honors and Walters and freshman Christa Harmotto both earned honorable mention recognition. Tortorello was also a finalist for the Honda Award for the second time.

HEAD COACH RUSS ROSE

➤ The Women's Volleyball Booster Club marked Rose's 25 years of coaching in 2003 by dedicating a bench, located outside of the post office on Fraser Street in State College.

Prior to entering the tough Big Ten Conference in 1991, Penn State experienced unprecedented success in the Atlantic 10 Conference, winning eight straight championships. In seven seasons of round-robin play, the Nittany Lions never lost a conference match, reeling off 49 consecutive wins. The 1990 season was Penn State's last in the Atlantic 10 and it proved to be one of the most exciting in the 25-year history of the program.

Unbeaten in 42 regular-season matches, the Nittany Lions swept Purdue and Big Ten champion Wisconsin in the first two rounds of the NCAA Tournament. Of the team's 44 wins, 40 were sweeps, a school and national record. Penn State, 12-0 against NCAA Tournament teams, lost to Nebraska in four games in the Mideast Region championship match in Lincoln.

Penn State finished sixth in the final 1990 Tachikara Coaches Poll, the program's highest final ranking ever at the time.

Three Nittany Lions — Jo Ann Elwell, Michelle Jaworski and Noelle Zientara — were named All-Americans by the AVCA and Volleyball Monthly.

An 11-time nominee for National Coach of the Year, Rose garnered the Atlantic 10 Coach of the Year award in 1984, 85, 87, 88, 89 and 90.

Throughout his career, Rose has been called upon to share his expertise with the coaches and players who represent the United States in international competition. In 1989, he was an assistant coach with the United States men's national team for an exhibition series with Canada and the Soviet Union. His work on the international scene was to have continued in July of that year, but personal commitments and time constraints prevented him from accepting the position as head coach of the U.S. women's team to the Maccabiah Games.

In 1990, Rose worked with members of the men's national and developmental teams during training camp in San Diego. In 1993, he assisted in the U.S. men's matches with Canada and the women's team against China. He also assisted with the U.S. men as they prepared for the 2000 Olympics in Sydney.

In the summer of 2002, Rose assisted the U.S. men's team on a 13-day tour of Italy where the athletes competed against the world's top teams, including Brazil, Italy, Yugoslavia, Russia and Holland.

An instructor in the USVBA coaches certification program, Rose has served as a national referee and evaluator and state director for volleyball for the Special Olympics.

In 2005, USA Volleyball named Rose one of their All-Time Great Coaches, making him the first Big Ten coach to ever receive the honor and putting him in the company of the best volleyball coaches in history, including previous Olympic coaches as well as many of their peers.

Rose was a member of the NCAA Division I Volleyball Committee for six years and the NCAA representative to the United States Volleyball Association Rules Committee.

Rose served as head coach of the U.S. men's team, which won the bronze medal at the 1985 Maccabiah Games, and the U.S. women's silver medal team in the 1981 Maccabiah Games. He won bronze medals as an assistant coach of the women's team in the 1982 National Sports Festival and as the East women's head coach at the 1983 Festival.

An active clinician, Rose also coached professional men's volleyball in Puerto Rico in 1976 and has continued to do clinics on the island as well as in the United States.

Players are not the only ones to benefit from Rose's tutelage. Over 20 individuals within the college coaching fraternity have gained instruction from Rose.

A 1975 graduate of George Williams College, Rose was a member of the school's team that won the 1974 National Association for Intercollegiate Athletics national championship. He was the captain of the 1975 team that finished third in NAIA competition.

After graduation, Rose remained at George Williams for two years as a part-time coach, helping the women's team win two state titles and place sixth in national competition. He also assisted the men's team that won the national championship in 1977.

In 1978, he completed his master's degree at Nebraska, where he was the defensive coach for the Cornhusker women. While writing his thesis on volleyball statistics, he led the second team to a two-year varsity mark of 52-5.

THE ROSE COACHING PHILOSOPHY

Russ Rose has taken Penn State from the regionally competitive level to that of an NCAA power since he took over the Penn State women's volleyball program in 1979. The development has been complete and successful, because of excellent talent and an equally sound method. Following is "The Rose Coaching Philosophy:"

COACH'S ROLE

"I believe the coach has numerous roles that require constant review and attention. First, and foremost, is the recruitment of quality student-athletes. With effective coaching, student-athletes become the real key to a team's success."

"Secondly, we as a staff have to relate to the players what we feel is important for their growth and success. All the knowledge in the world will prove to be useless if we can't prepare our team for competition. We've shown this to be one of our strengths. I have great confidence in Dennis and Kevin that they will do whatever it takes to help the players improve and pursue their dreams."

"Third, we have to prepare the team both physically and mentally. The physical preparation is easy, as the entire Penn State environment encourages the pursuit of excellence as shown by our Sears Director's Cup results. The fact that five of our fall sports teams won Big Ten Titles last year more than reinforces that school of thought. The mental aspect of our players' development is one of the areas that I feel has separated us from our competition. We are committed as a group to reaching the highest levels possible - year in and year out."

"Certainly our time in the Big Ten has really demonstrated to us the importance of making sure that the players are aware of what is going to be expected in a conference as strong as the Big Ten. It's been the strongest conference in the country via the RPI and has led the nation in attendance for a number of years."

"Outside the Big Ten, we play a competitive non-conference schedule. We continually strive to meet teams during the regular-season that have advanced in the national championship playoffs. Last year in particular as we played every NCAA Champion since our title in 1999."

"I contend that the best way to see where our team is and where we aspire to be, is to play the nation's best teams. Our administration has allowed us to truly compete annually for the national championship. Universities enable teams to compete for the conference and national championship. I have been blessed to have an administration that possessed the vision to support our program and I feel we have been able to deliver. It starts at the top with a University President and Athletic Department staff who guide and assist the program."

"I think our role here is to attract the type of player that wants to be at Penn State, understands what we are about and knows what it will take to fit into our program. I don't want to be in the position where we are going to have to be saying one thing to get a player interested in Penn State and then change our story once the athlete arrives on campus. So I am interested in people who are willing to be up front in what they see in their own development and what we can do to help them succeed."

"Over the years I have been contacted by numerous schools as well as the National Team program regarding their coaching positions, but I feel that the support I receive from the administration at Penn State is second to none, and I have no interest in coaching anywhere but Penn State."

TEAM PLAY

"Team play really deals with volleyball being the ultimate team sport. The greatest thing you can talk about is the opportunity for a team to compete for a national championship. You must communicate and sacrifice to be successful. All the players must possess a wide variety of skills and be willing and able to play together. My approach is to select the best combination of players who will play together and at the same time seek to fulfill their own roles and goals.

"The team that is willing to emphasize the pursuit of excellence at its own personal expense is the team that most often succeeds. Our success over the years, where we have won our conference and advanced to the national semifinal and championship matches, continues to reinforce these beliefs. 1999's National Championship was just the icing on the cake. A National Championship does not validate a coach or their program. It highlights the efforts of many and allows the community to celebrate the actions of the team. Our goal is to return to that level and even if we fall short, we know that we were in the game."

FUNDAMENTALS

"Fundamentals and the player's development of them are the most important aspect of the game. I know it's a tedious process, but you need to spend a great deal of time on the skills and make sure the players understand the importance of execution. We try to recruit student-athletes who are great volleyball players but the game always comes down to the core fundamentals. I will not sacrifice the time necessary to develop a strong foundation. This is where a team's discipline and confidence is first introduced and developed. Our commitment to each team is for every one of our players to be challenged to become the best they can be every day. I know our players are constantly improving their game here. I won't guarantee victories but I can guarantee a player will improve at Penn State, and that is evidenced by the number of athletes who have chosen to further their careers with the national team or play professionally."

TEAM DEFENSE

"Team defense is one of the aspects of coaching that I really enjoy. It has always been one of the staples of our program. The pursuit of the ball in a game can only occur through preparation and repetition. I believe that everyone in the program has to rally around certain concepts. At Penn State, we play hard, controlled defense, which means every player pursues every ball or they are taken out. I believe if you train hard, then the game itself begins to be easy. If a player starts making decisions on what ball they think they can get and what they think is somebody else's ball, that's when we try to make some adjustments and get someone else involved in the play. Our defensive philosophy is to keep every ball in play — every day of each season. I believe we have shown this works over the long haul as well."

STUDENT-ATHLETE

"The term student-athlete is a very valid one here at Penn State and in the Big Ten. We recruit not only quality athletes, but quality students as well. There is no question in my mind that the well-rounded individual will be better prepared to deal with the numerous challenges faced in life. The programs available at Penn State are geared for success. The opportunity to pursue your potential, both academically and athletically, is in place and working well at Penn State. The student support services at Penn State and the job Jim Weaver does with our team is outstanding. It is a reflection of the entire athletic department commitment to provide the necessary services for the student-athletes to pursue and achieve their dreams."

"I expect a commitment both to academics and athletics. I take great pride in the fact that every young woman who has entered our program and completed her playing eligibility has received her degree. Rankings of the 29 athletic programs on campus reveal that the women's volleyball team annually posts one of the highest cumulative grade-point averages. With proper emphasis on the importance of maintaining high academic standards, I know we will achieve continual success. At Penn State, we have had the most members of Academic All-Big Ten as a sport and an institution since joining the conference, and that speaks volumes about our student-athletes as well as our academic advising staff."

THE BIG TEN CONFERENCE

"The Big Ten is certainly the premier athletic conference in the nation. It is a conference that is totally committed to the pursuit of excellence. The opportunity to play in the Big Ten truly enhances our program. The excitement generated by the athletes and fans at matches is great for the sport. It's a great environment in which to compete. The conference has been ranked No. 1 in the volleyball RPI ratings since 1998 and again led the nation in attendance in 2005."

PENN STATE UNIVERSITY

"Penn State has been terrific for women's volleyball. I don't think there is another school in the country that has the support from everyone from the athletic director to the president of the university. The university president routinely drops by practices and uses the players in university functions to help increase the visibility of the program and university. I am extremely optimistic on the future of Penn State women's volleyball and there is no place in the country I'd rather be than Penn State. The community has supported us during our development and the university's commitment is to be the best in everything it offers, from academics to athletics."

RECRUITING

"It is our goal to encourage quality student athletes to visit Penn State with their parents to get a realistic view of what is really entailed with what we refer to as the 'Penn State Experience.' The campus, the environment and face of State College truly separates us from many of the other schools in the country as we exemplify the meaning of a 'college town.' The chemistry that exists between the team members is what has kept us competitive and the energy that exists between the university and the town of State College keeps the juices flowing. We want players that want to make a commitment to be the best that they can be. We also want players to be aware of the fact that I am looking for a level of accountability from them as well. I'm not looking for a situation where I'm going to spend 24 hours a day, seven days a week trying to monitor their lifestyles or get involved in preventing them from having a good time. I believe the college experience at this time in their lives is the greatest opportunity to have fun and explore. I think you live hard and play hard and at Penn State, the students have a great opportunity to have fun in multiple areas."

STAFF

"I feel great about our staff. I think it's terrific to have Dennis (Hohenshelt) and Kevin (Starns). The position of Director of Volleyball Operations has also demonstrated new commitment to women's volleyball and no one is better prepared than Salima Davidson Rockwell to fulfill that. She has a great understanding of the University and is 100% a Penn Stater. Very few players had the impact that Salima had while she was here and I know she will be a fantastic addition to the program. Some people would think that having people that are from their alma mater would be a negative but I see it as a positive. It's a positive thing to have people with experience involved because they know in this program they are going to be encouraged to have an opinion and their opinions are going to be heard. I respect what my former players have to say and the players can turn to them and get good feedback and not be dependent on having to interact with me all of the time. The addition of Dennis brings a wealth of knowledge to our program and I know the players will reap the benefits of interacting with him in the gym. An additional benefit that I think is important in our philosophy is that we try and look at the strengths of the players and how best to get them to contribute as well as continue to meet their goals. We think it's a tremendous bonus. We're one of five schools in the country who have had a men's and a women's team that have won a national championship and the only school outside of California that can make that claim and I think it's terrific that volleyball is on the map here year round. The interaction between the men's and women's programs here is exceptional."

BOOSTER CLUB

"Our Booster Club is terrific and committed to assisting the players in their transition to Penn State, as well as supporting us in going on our foreign trips. They make so many things possible and the team and the staff know how fortunate we are to have their support. The 2001 trip to Cuba and the 2005 spring trip to Italy were both terrific and shared by 20 members of the Booster Club. They are already getting started for our trip in 2009."

ASSISTANT COACH DENNIS HOHENSHELT

Dennis Hohenshelt

- First Year at Penn State
- Alma Mater: Juniata, 1993

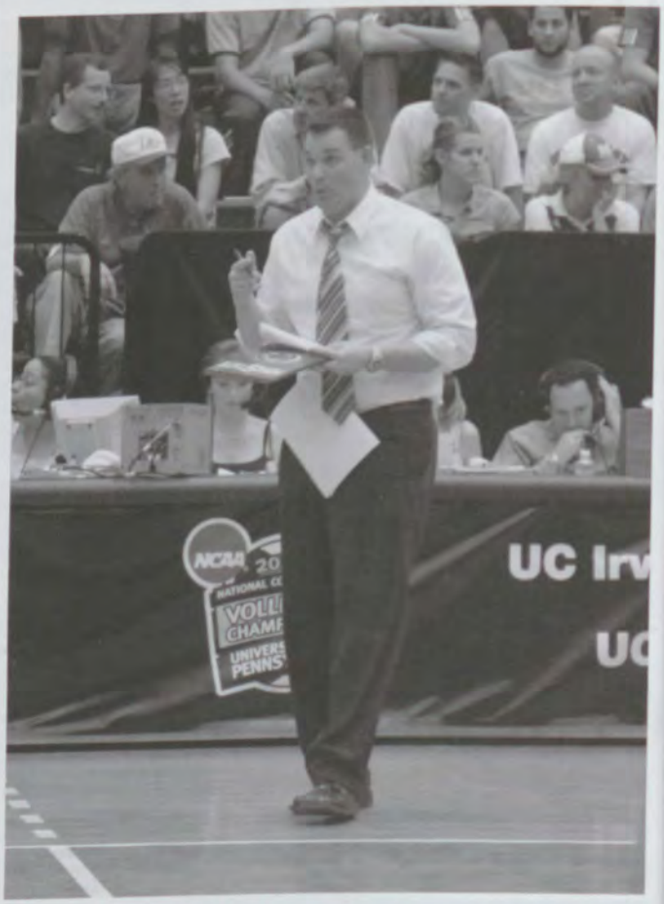
Dennis Hohenshelt begins his first season with the Penn State women's volleyball program after spending the last 10 seasons as the Nittany Lion men's volleyball assistant coach. Among other duties, Hohenshelt will be involved in match preparation, player development and recruiting.

"I have always admired Dennis' style of coaching and contributions he has made both to USA Volleyball and to the Penn State men's program from afar and had spoken with him about some opportunities outside of the men's game and getting into women's volleyball," said head coach Russ Rose. "When the position opened up, it made all the sense in the world to consider him for the job. The greatest strength that Dennis has is that he hits the ground running. He knows the players, he knows how we run the program and he can talk to [former assistant coach] Mike [Schall] when he can't figure out what I'm looking for or doing. Dennis is going to make great contributions to the players and the volleyball community.

"That's not to diminish the incredible impact that Mike had on our program for the length of his tenure," Rose continued. "But Dennis brings in new ideas to not only challenge me but to take some of the ideas from the men's game and work with our players from a different foundation than some of the other programs in the country."

Hohenshelt most recently aided the Penn State men's team in reaching the 2006 national championship match for the first time in 11 seasons, defeating then-No. 1 UC Irvine in five games in the national semifinal contest at Rec Hall. During his tenure with the men's team, Penn State accumulated an overall record of 237-82 (.743), including a 110-4 (.965) mark in the Eastern Intercollegiate Volleyball Association (EIVA) and nine EIVA titles and National Collegiate Championship appearances.

Jacob Hohenshelt



Boasting a considerable amount of experience with USA Volleyball, Hohenshelt was a coaching assistant with the 2004 USA Boy's Youth National Team that won the NORCECA Zone gold medal. He was also the assistant coach for the USA Boy's Junior National Team during the summer of 2002 in Brazil and helped lead the U.S. Junior National Team to a third-place finish at the NORCECA Championships. He assisted with the U.S. Boy's Youth National Team in the summer of 1997 and scouted for the U.S. Men's National Team at the 1997 World Cup. He also aided at the tryouts for the U.S. Men's National and Junior National teams.

A native of Harrisburg, Pa., and a 1993 graduate of Juniata College, Hohenshelt led the Eagles to consecutive EIVA Division III titles in 1992 and 1993, earning Most Valuable Player accolades his senior year. After receiving his bachelor of science degree in secondary education and social studies, Hohenshelt served two years as an assistant coach for the Juniata men's program from 1994-95. He was promoted to head coach in 1996 and led the Eagles to an 18-8 record and a second place finish in the EIVA Division III Tournament.

Hohenshelt also was assistant coach at Huntingdon (Pa.) High School from 1993-1995.

He is married to the former Tara Rowlyk, who is an assistant coach for the Penn State women's lacrosse team. The couple has one son, Jacob, who was born in July of 2005.

ASSISTANT COACH KEVIN STARNS

Kevin Starns

➤ Second Year at Penn State

➤ Alma Mater: University of Nebraska, Omaha, 1995

Kevin Starns begins her second season as an assistant coach with the Penn State women's volleyball team. Starns is involved with recruiting, training and administrative duties.

"Kevin is a young coach who enjoys recruiting and embraces hard work and has done a nice job with working with our strength program," stated head coach Russ Rose. "I believe as Kevin continues to develop, she will make a fine head coach when she elects to go in that direction."

The former Kevin Campbell comes to Penn State from UNC-Charlotte, where she was an assistant coach for five seasons. She was the 49ers recruiting coordinator and assisted in all aspects of the program including training and development, scouting, marketing and promotions, fundraising and summer camps and clinics.

Also involved in the volleyball community on a national level, Starns has assisted at the USA Volleyball High Performance tryouts on several occasions and was the Conference USA Representative for the AVCA Assistant Coaches Committee for four years.

In 2001, Starns founded the Charlotte Elite Volleyball Club in Charlotte, N.C., and was responsible for every aspect of the operation, including the schedule, budget, facilities, mentoring of coaches and training. The program had 100% college placement for its participants.

From 1999 to 2000, Starns was an assistant coach at Ohio University and was the assistant coach and assistant compliance officer at Winthrop University from 1998 to 1999 while also serving as the club director for the Carolina Juniors volleyball club.

Starns graduated Cum Laude from the University of Nebraska at Omaha with a degree in History in 1995. She also attended the Nebraska School of Law from 1995-1996.

A four-year member of the Nebraska-Omaha volleyball team, Starns earned All-North Central Conference honors and was named an AVCA North Central All-Regional team member. She is ranked in the NCAA record books for digs in a Division II four-game match (39) and was also named Academic All-North Central Conference.

A native of Omaha, Neb., Starns earned Dean's List recognition in 1991, 1993 and 1994 and was a member of the Golden Key National Honor Society from 1991 to 1995.

Starns was married in September 2004 to Eric H. Starns. Eric is a Corporal in the Marine Corps and is currently stationed at Camp Lejeune in North Carolina.

DIRECTOR OF VB OPS. SALIMA DAVIDSON ROCKWELL

Salima Rockwell

➤ First Year at Penn State

➤ Alma Mater: Penn State, 1994

Salima (Davidson) Rockwell rejoins the Penn State women's volleyball program as the Director of Volleyball Operations. Rockwell was a three-time All-American setter for the Nittany Lions from 1991-94 and served as a two-time team captain of the U.S. National Team during her time with the squad from 1995-99. She comes back to Penn State after spending last year as an assistant coach at Oregon State under head coach Terry Liskevych.

"Very few players in my tenure with Penn State volleyball have had the impact on others that Salima had while attending Penn State," said head coach Russ Rose. "Her playing career speaks for itself and the fact that she was the captain of the U.S. National team highlights her talents as a player as well as her leadership traits. She will be a fabulous mentor to all of the women in the program as well as a great ambassador for Penn State women's volleyball. [Former Director of Volleyball Operations] Julie [Backstrom] did a great job of getting things organized and representing us, and when Julie knew she was looking to go a different direction, she contacted Salima before I did. The fact that Julie felt strongly about Salima not only shows how much Julie cared about the program but how she also feels about Salima and her abilities. Salima is passionate about Penn State and women's volleyball and I look forward to her contributions this year and into the future."

A native of Pittsburgh, Pa., Rockwell was an assistant at Pittsburgh from 2001-03 where she worked primarily with the Panthers' setters. She was also the Panthers' lead recruiter and signed four of their top five recruits in 2002.

Rockwell captained the USA National Team in 1997 and 1998, serving as the starting setter for the Americans and earned the Coaches' Award, MVP and the Team Award in each of those seasons.

Rockwell also spent three years in the ultra-competitive world of pharmaceutical sales, consistently ranking as a top selling representative.

She still ranks fourth all-time on Penn State's career assists list with 5,455, and sits third on the career assists per game list (12.34). She ranks fifth on the career digging charts with 1,278 and sits 12th all-time on the career hitting percentage list (.301). An all-around player, Rockwell also ranks 10th on the career total blocks chart with 382 and was inducted into the Pennsylvania Volleyball Coaches Hall of Fame. A two-time member of the NCAA Championship All-Tournament team (1993 & 1994), Rockwell also earned All-Big Ten accolades four times, including three first-team selections. She graduated in 1994 with a Bachelor's of the Arts in Speech Communications.

Rockwell and her husband, Jeff, have one son, Logan, who was born in October of 2004.

Adam Jarrett

Volunteer Assistant Coach

10th Season ➤ Penn State, 2000

Adam Jarrett begins his 10th season with the Penn state women's volleyball program. While he has served in various capacities with the Nittany Lions, including team manager and statistician, Jarrett will act as the volunteer assistant coach for the 2006 season.

"The women's volleyball program is like a family to me," said Jarrett, a 2000 graduate of Penn State with a degree in psychology and Administration of Justice. "Coach Rose is a great guy and I really enjoy the experience of aiding in the development of young talent."

Jarrett, who has been involved in the training of several All-Americans including Bonnie Bremner, Lauren Cacciamani, Terri Zemaitis, Sam Tortorello and Kaleena Walters, manages a local business when not aiding the team. He is single and resides in State College.

Dan Osterrieder

Student Manager ➤ Sophomore

Pittsburgh, Pa. ➤ North Allegheny

Dan Osterrieder begins his second season as a team manager and statistician for the Penn State women's volleyball program.

Osterrieder, a practice player with the women's squad last season, is a 2005 graduate of North Allegheny High School in Pittsburgh, Pa. As a first team all-state and first team all-district player, he helped the NA squad to three consecutive district championships from 2003-2005.

He is enrolled in the Penn state business school, majoring in finance and minoring in communication arts and sciences. After interning in the summer at Willis, an insurance broker, Osterrieder is considering insurance as a career option.

QUOTING RUSS ROSE

"Kris was really slowed down during the spring by a shoulder injury but some of the things that she has accomplished in her previous three years lead me to be very positive about what I would anticipate from her in her senior year. She is a good server and is a competitive player who cares about the team, and when she gets that tomboy attitude out there on the court, she is a terrific player and a fan favorite. Her knowledge of the game and willingness to play aggressively will hopefully pay dividends."

QUOTING RUSS ROSE

"I'm hopeful that Cassy is physically healed from some of the challenges she has had throughout her career. A great deal of the success that we may have and can hope for this season will be based on Cassy's impact offensively, blocking-wise and her leadership skills. She has had some great highs and some disappointing lows in her career and I hope for her that she has a great offensive year and blocks well. Dennis [Hohenshelt] has been working with her on blocking and I think that is going to show in how she plays the game. Cassy has always been a team player and has embraced the opportunity to be a team leader."

SALYER'S EXPECTATIONS

"This is a very special group of young women, all of whom bring various intangible qualities to a very special program. In order for this team to reach its full potential, we will have to all be facing in the same direction, combining our different strengths so that we are a single, cohesive unit. On paper, this team has many of the tools necessary to be great, but so do a lot of other schools. Memorable teams have a bond that extends beyond physical talent, and that synergy is what sets them apart from everyone else."

PERSONAL

Born Ann Nicole Naylor on Jan. 17, 1986, in Santa Monica, Calif. ... parents are Biff and Susan Naylor ... has two brothers, Anthony (24) and Bruno (18), and one sister, Mary (22) ... father Biff played basketball for the Nittany Lions from 1957-1961 ... brother Anthony played basketball for the University of San Francisco ... majoring in hotel and restaurant management ... names Kanye West as favorite entertainer, the L.A. Lakers as favorite pro sports team, Michael Jordan as favorite athlete, "The Great Gatsby" as favorite book, "Law and Order" as favorite television show, "Pretty Woman" as favorite movie, Johnny Depp as favorite actor and Angelina Jolie as favorite actress.

QUOTING RUSS ROSE

"Ann did a very nice job in the spring setting for us and she has continued that throughout the summer. She is going to make contributions as a backup setter and back row player. She wins our long distance runs as well as the sprints and is a very competitive individual. She has good experience and has played a great deal of volleyball. There are certain responsibilities that change when you go from being an underclassman to being an upperclassman, and I hope to see that on the court, but I know she'll always have a big smile."

NAYLOR'S EXPECTATIONS

"My expectations for this year are to work together as a unified team to defend our three consecutive Big Ten titles and be the one team to end our season on top!"

QUOTING RUSS ROSE

"Katie is key player for this team as she was one of our primary passers last year and will have additional responsibilities this year. She immerses herself in certain things and if we can get her healthy and she can return herself to where she was physically on the trip to Italy [in the summer of 2005], then she is a player who needs to be on the floor all the time. Katie is a great passer and I think has the team's best volleyball IQ from playing the game for such a long time. She has always been the go-to hitter on her previous teams, but she is very open to helping this team, even if that means giving some swings back to the younger players or looking at playing the libero position. She has indicated that playing libero is not her first choice, but she wants to do what helps the team. I know Katie plays the game hard and she brings a lot of tools to the table that can allow a team to be successful. Katie has multiple talents and it is our charge to channel her in the right position."

PRICE'S EXPECTATIONS

"To end the season with a win."

QUOTING RUSS ROSE

"Mel continues her development as a complete volleyball player. She has had two years of being at the top of the conference in hitting and blocking and I feel she is one of the best read-blockers that we've had in the program. Mel continues to work hard in the weight room and really wants to achieve great things as a volleyball player. She is a fabulous student with a 3.9 grade point average and is a very important part of the team and piece of the puzzle because of how well she interacts with others and the way she conducts her day-to-day business. Her strengths lie in her confidence and emotional control. It is my hope that her stint with USA Volleyball this summer pays big dividends."

WALBRIDGE'S EXPECTATIONS

"Talk is cheap, but my expectations are very high this year. Plain and simple."

QUOTING RUSS ROSE

"I thought Nicole experienced the full competitive experience as a freshman. From having matches where she was clearly the main focal point and had a great impact on the team's performance, being recognized as the freshman of the year in the Big Ten and nationally, to suffering a tough time in her last match of her freshman year that will hopefully serve as motivation for future improvements. She is a terrific offensive player who gets on the ball quick, hits the ball high and hard and has a true hitter's mentality. She certainly likes to attack the ball. I'm not as interested in Nic being a percentage hitter. She is the type of individual who is always going to be depended on for generating kills per game versus hitting percentage, although her hitting percentage is very good. I feel she is one of the top attackers in college volleyball and her involvement with USA Volleyball this summer has certainly opened her eyes to where she is today and how she stacks up."

FAWCETT'S EXPECTATIONS

"I am looking forward to another year competing against some of the top teams in the nation. Combining the incoming class with the great leadership that we have, I have great expectations for us. Capitalizing on those expectations is going to be the key for another great season."

Born Christa Deanne Harmotto on Oct. 12, 1986 in Sewickley, Pa. ... parents are Robert and Constance Harmotto ... has two brothers, Nathan (18) and Nolan (14) ... father Robert played basketball at Juniata College ... majoring in education ... names hobbies as snowboarding, art and scrapbooking, favorite musical group as Rascal Flatts, favorite school subject as math, favorite pro sports team as the Pittsburgh Steelers, favorite athlete as Heinz Ward, favorite food as Gnocchi's, favorite book as "The Winner Within" by Pat Riley, favorite TV show as "Desperate Housewives," favorite movie as "Crash," favorite actor as Will Smith, favorite actress as Sandra Bullock and favorite place to visit as Hilton Head, S.C.

QUOTING RUSS ROSE

"I thought at times last year that Christa was as good at the net as any player we've had during my tenure, both offensively and defensively. Her strengths are that she's quick and powerful and works very hard to get herself in a position to be a quality attacker. She is an extremely strong blocker in the air who wants to block every ball. So much of the success of the season will be dependent on how she recuperates from her knee injury, but she continues to make good progress and I'm certainly optimistic that even if Christa isn't at 100%, she's going to be on the floor helping us in a variety of ways. The fact that she is one of the two captains of the team after her freshman season is a good indication that she possesses valuable leadership skills that are important to this team."

HARMOTTO'S EXPECTATIONS

"As new faces and new dreams surface, several goals remain the driving force of the season. Among them are working as a team, taking care of business in the Big Ten and winning the last game of our season."

PERSONAL

Born Laura Elizabeth Holloway on Jan. 27, 1987 in Chicago, Ill. ... parents are Randy and Tina Holloway ... has one brother, Scott (18), who also plays volleyball ... plans on majoring in Business or Psychology ... names hobbies as fishing, biking, hanging out with friends, going to concerts and doing outdoor activities, favorite musical entertainers as Donovan Frankenriter, O.A.R., Sublime, Pink Floyd, Rolling Stones, Bob Marley, Jack Johnson, G Love and the special sauce, Keller Williams and Kanye West, favorite school subject as math, favorite professional sports team as the Chicago Cubs, favorite athlete as Lance Armstrong and Michael Jordan, favorite food as brownies and any type of BBQ, favorite book as "The DaVinci Code," favorite TV show as "Friends," favorite movie as "Dumb and Dumber," favorite actor as Will Ferrell, favorite actress as Jennifer Aniston and favorite place to visit as anywhere tropical, including the Dominican Republic and the Galapagos Islands.

QUOTING RUSS ROSE

"Laura is a confident, competent player who needs to adjust to the demands of the college game. She has a terrific volleyball resume and I would hope that in her sophomore season, we would get to see some more flashes of the type of player she was as a high school and club athlete. Her strengths are that she can play left side or right side and she is experienced as a primary ball-handler. Our system will dictate whether or not we are able to use some of the players we have on the roster, but Laura gained some valuable experience at the end of last year with the injury to Christa Harmotto, and I would hope that she would come in with an attitude that she wants to continue to contribute where she is needed the most."

HOLLOWAY'S EXPECTATIONS

HIGH SCHOOL

Four-year volleyball letterwinner, two-year track letterwinner at Loudoun Valley High School in Purcellville, Va. ... volleyball team captain for the Vikings in 2005 ... two-time Virginia Gatorade Player of the Year (2004 and 2005) ... member of the 2004 USA Youth National Team that won the NORCECA Championships in Puerto Rico ... two-time PrepVolleyball All-American (2004 and 2005) ... ranked seventh on the PrepVolleyball Top Ten Senior Aces list ... Virginia State Player of the Year in 2004 ... three-time First Team All-Region ... two-time Region Player of the Year ... three-time Dulles District Player of the Year ... posted a 93-14 scholastic team record for a .870 winning percentage ... led the 2004 Vikings to a Virginia State AA Championship with an undefeated 29-0 record, ultimately winning 55 consecutive matches ... Virginia State record holder with 1,463 career kills and 307 solo blocks ... 2004 AA Virginia State High Jump Champion ... member of the Northern Virginia Volleyball Association club program with national tournament appearances in 2003, 2004 and 2005 ... member of the 2006 Pittsburgh Renaissance Volleyball Club that participated in the 2006 Junior Olympics ... member and officer of the National Honor Society with a 3.78 grade point average.

PERSONAL

Born Jennifer Blair Brown on March 5, 1988 in Leesburg, Va. ... parents are Jeff and Jaima Brown ... has one brother, Tyler (22) ... undecided in major ... hobbies are music, reading and movies, names "The DaVinci Code" as favorite book, "Sense and Sensibility" as favorite movie, Lifehouse as favorite musical group, the beach as favorite place to visit, mashed potatoes as favorite food, Jim Carrey as favorite actor and Julia Roberts as favorite actress.

WHY I CHOSE PENN STATE

"I chose Penn State because of the tradition of excellence, both academically and athletically."

QUOTING RUSS ROSE

"Blair, in my opinion, has a very high upside and the unknown will be determined by how she handles the transition from high school and club to the physical demands of the college game. She is quick, jumps high and will be a strong blocker upon arrival and has good ball-control skills and a nice touch on the ball. Whether or not she has the opportunity to make a big statement as a freshman will be determined by both how she develops and competes and how well the team is doing. I wouldn't be opposed to considering redshirting her because I know there will be a time when Blair is going to be a terrific player. She has a good arm and plays the game high above the net."

BROWN'S EXPECTATIONS

"My expectation for the season is to work toward the Big Ten and National Championship titles."

Leland, Mich. ➤ Leland

PRONOUNCED: Ah-LEE-sha • Glass

HIGH SCHOOL

Four-year letterwinner at Leland (Mich.) High School ... Michigan Gatorade Player of the Year ... led her squad to the 2006 Class D state championship, producing a single-match record of 48 kills in the title match ... named Miss Volleyball for the state of Michigan in 2006 ... four-time first team all-state, all-region dream team and all-conference ... is the National and State High School record holder in season aces (296), career aces (937) and career kills (3,584) ... during scholastic career attacked at a .440 clip while also contributing 1,816 digs and 680 blocks ... ranked sixth on PrepVolleyball.com's "Senior Aces" list ... was a member of the 2005 US Youth National A2 Team and played on the USA Red squad that won the gold medal at the HP Championships in Austin, Texas, where she also received the "Best Setter" award ... started on the 2004 USA Youth National Team that won the gold medal in Puerto Rico at the NORCECA Games, where she was recognized as "Best Server" ... a complete athlete, was also named first team all-state as a basketball player as a junior and senior ... was voted one of the top 25 players in the state by the Detroit Free Press ... member of the National Honor Society with a 3.7 grade point average.

PERSONAL

Born Alisha Rebecca Glass on April 5, 1988 ... mother is Laurie Glass, who was also her high school volleyball coach ... grandfather Larry Glass was her high school basketball coach ... enrolled in the College of Health and Human Development ... names favorite book as "The Secret Life of Bees," favorite movie as "Love & Basketball," favorite entertainer as Tyler Perry, favorite place to visit as her grandparent's house, favorite food as any kind of pasta, favorite actor as Denzel Washington and favorite actress as Julia Roberts.

WHY I CHOSE PENN STATE

"I chose Penn State for several reasons. The high academic expectations they have for their student-athletes, the continually successful program, the atmosphere, the great coaching staff, and the girls."

QUOTING RUSS ROSE

"I have contended from the beginning when I recruited Alisha that I believe she is a special talent and has all of the tools to be a player who needs to be on the floor all the time. Certainly, her high school records will verify that she is a strong offensive player, both in serving and at the net, but the biggest question will be how she handles the challenge of two roles as both a front row player as well as setting out of the back row. I know the biggest transition for her is going to have to be her development as a setter while in the back row. I'm cautiously optimistic about the players in the freshman class and Alisha comes in with the greatest intrigue to me because she is a player who I think can contribute from the endline and at the net. There aren't too many players, even experienced college players, who have come in and done that, and I feel as a freshman that Alisha will have the opportunity to make an impact in the outcome of matches."

GLASS' EXPECTATIONS

"I hope that we meet and exceed the expectations of what our team should do this year. I want us to want to put in that extra amount of hard work that will put us above the rest and that will take us where we want to go this year."

PERSONAL

Born on Oct. 15, 1988 in St. Thomas, U.S. Virgin Islands ... parents are Michael and Carmen Hodge .. has one brother, Michael (9) ... mother played volleyball at George Washington University ... father played volleyball at the University of the Virgin Islands ... both parents are former members of the Virgin Islands National Volleyball team and were selected all-regional by the Carolina Region ... plans on majoring in business management ... names "The Coldest Winter Ever" and "Fade" as favorite books, "Four Brothers," "Saw," "White Chicks" and "Big Momma's House 2" as favorite movies, hot fudge brownie sundaes as favorite food, the Virgin Islands as favorite place to visit, the Miami Heat as favorite pro sports team and Dwayne Wade as favorite pro athlete.

WHY I CHOSE PENN STATE

"I chose Penn State because I loved the campus, the team and the coaches when I took my official visit. I liked the way the team got along off the court as well as on the court. It felt different than my other visits."

QUOTING RUSS ROSE

"Megan is certainly one of the most heralded recruits we've ever had in women's volleyball as demonstrated by her selection as the Gatorade National Player of the Year. She's a complete player who I have never had in camp or worked with personally, so much of what I think and assume is based on what I see. What I especially like about Megan is that I think she is a young person with an incredible upside, especially offensively. Her knowledge of the game is high, both from the input of her parents as well as the game experience from her time with USA Volleyball over the last four summers. I believe that she is really going to blossom in our program, where she knows that every person has various roles to play and our final result of a match isn't based on her having to carry the team. She has had a wealth of experience in the past where she has been asked to be the primary offensive player and when that happens, it sometimes paints a picture of an individual that might not really be the case of who the person is. I coached against her mother's team when she played at George Washington and I've had a lot of conversations with her father, and I know that there is great family support for Megan as a volleyball player and student. She has the potential to make a similar impact that Nicole Fawcett made offensively because she is a terrific offensive player, both from the left and right side of the court. Megan is going to be a fan-favorite, I expect, and I look forward to seeing her development at Penn State."

HODGE'S EXPECTATIONS

"Win the Big Ten and NCAA title."

WHY I CHOSE PENN STATE

"Everything about Penn State seemed to be exactly what I wanted in a college. The team, the coaches, the academics and the campus all fit together well and made everything feel just right."

QUOTING RUSS ROSE

"Jess has demonstrated that she is the type of player who makes a great impact on all of the teams she has played on, whether it is her high school team in the state championship or her club team at nationals. She is a primary setter and a strong leader. The training that the setters, in particular, get as part of the Sports Performance club program is top-rate. We have certainly had great success with Sports Performance setters in the past. I like Jess' disposition, the things she said to me from the first time I talked to her and I look forward to the sort of contributions she can make as a setter. She's not the type who is going to be a strong offensive player at the net but she has played a great deal of volleyball and has a good feel for the game. SPRI has produced a large number of players who have made great contributions to college volleyball teams and I don't see any reason why that streak will stop with Jess Yanz. She plays the game hard and I like the technique and skills she possesses."

YANZ' EXPECTATIONS

"I expect to defend our Big Ten title and to win a National Championship."

Nittany Lions By Month

Penn State is 20-4 (.833) all-time during the month of August. Its first two losses came during the inaugural NACWAA in 1995 when Nebraska swept the Lions, and in the 1999 NACWAA when Florida outlasted Penn State 3-2 in the opening round. The Lions fell to UCLA in the first round of the NACWAA in 2000 and fell to defending national champion Stanford in the first round of the AVCA/NACWAA Showcase in 2005, hosted by the Qwest Center in Omaha, Neb.

Penn State is 291-47-4 (.857) all-time during the month of September. Amazingly, the Lions are 115-8 during September dating back to the 1995 season and 39-3 over the last four years.

The Lions are 329-63 (.839) all-time during the month of October. Penn State has posted a 64-10 mark in October over the last eight seasons.

Penn State is 229-53 (.812) all-time during the month of November, including a 79-7 mark over the last eight seasons. The Lions had not lost a match in November since 1995 but saw the streak snapped with a 3-2 setback at Minnesota during the 2000 season. Over the last three seasons, Penn State has a 25-0 mark in November.

Quick Sets

• When taking a 2-0 lead, Penn State had won 139 consecutive matches but saw the streak end in a five-game loss on Nov. 9, 2001 at Illinois. The streak dated back to a loss at Ohio State on Oct. 16, 1996. Since joining the Big Ten for the 1991 season, Penn State has played in 514 total matches, winning 449. Amazingly, 357 of those 449 wins, or 80%, have been three-game sweeps. In 2004, 22 of Penn State's 29 wins were in three games (76%) and in 2005, 27 of Penn State's 31 wins were in three games (87%).

• Over the last 10 years, the Lions have lost only 40 matches. And of those 15 teams that defeated the Lions – Brigham Young, Florida, Illinois, Long Beach State, Michigan, Michigan State, Minnesota, Nebraska, Northwestern, Ohio State, USC, Stanford, Temple, Tennessee, UCLA and Wisconsin – 11 of these teams (Florida, Illinois, Michigan, Michigan State, Minnesota, Nebraska, Northwestern, Ohio State, Stanford, UCLA and Wisconsin) have been able to beat Penn State a second time. The Lions have compiled a 135-40 (77%) mark in the last 10 years versus these teams.

vs. Michigan 18-2	vs. Stanford 4-3
vs. Northwestern 18-2	vs. Michigan State 17-3
vs. Wisconsin 16-5	vs. Ohio State 16-5
vs. Florida 2-3	vs. UCLA 2-3
vs. Nebraska 2-2	vs. Minnesota 16-5
vs. Long Beach State 0-1	vs. Southern California 1-1
vs. Illinois 19-2	vs. Temple 0-1
vs. Brigham Young 4-1	vs. Tennessee 0-1

Since joining the Big Ten Conference for the 1991 season, Penn State has racked up an impressive 259-41 (.863) record in league matches – the best mark of any Big Ten team over that 15-year span.

• The Big Ten Conference was among the top in the nation with six teams included in the 2005 NCAA Championship bracket, which tied the Pac-10 and the SEC for the second-highest conference representation and just one shy of the Big 12. The conference has now sent six or more teams to NCAA play 11 times, compiling a 61-36 (.629) six-squad mark and an overall NCAA record of 178-110 (.618) dating back to 1983. For the fourth consecutive season and the sixth time in the past eight years, the Big Ten advanced three or more teams to regional competition. Penn State earned the 2005 automatic berth by winning the conference championship with an undefeated 20-0 record while Minnesota, Northwestern, Ohio State, Purdue and Wisconsin all earned at-large invitations. The conference has boasted a combined winning percentage of .600 or higher in 11 of the last 13 years and a .500 or better record in each of the past 14 tournaments. The Big Ten was 10-6 (.625) in 2005, marking the third straight NCAA Championship that the league recorded 10 or more wins.

• Seven league schools placed among the Top 30 in the country in volleyball attendance in 2005. Wisconsin ranked third with an average of 3,935, Minnesota placed fourth with an average of 3,883, Penn State ranked sixth with an average of 2,726, Purdue was 10th with an average of 2,183, Illinois placed 21st with an average of 1,514, Michigan State averaged 1,416 for 23rd and Ohio State rounded out the Big Ten schools by producing an average of 1,137 fans, good for 27th.

• The Big Ten produced two American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) National Players of the Week during the 2005 season. Penn State's Sam Tortorello collected the award on Oct 3, the second national award of its kind for the Nittany Lions in program history. Ohio State's Marisa Main also garnered the national honor on Oct. 24.

• Ten Big Ten players earned AVCA All-America honors for the 2005 season. Penn State's Sam Tortorello picked up first team honors, Penn State's Nicole Fawcett and Melissa Walbridge and Ohio State's Marisa Main earned second team honors and Wisconsin's Sheila Shaw and Ohio State's Danielle Meyer earned third team honors. Penn State's Christa Harmotto and Kaleena Walters, Purdue's Renata Dargan and Minnesota's Paula Gentil picked up honorable mention accolades. Five of the 10 players will be returning to their respective teams for the 2006 season.

• The Nittany Lions held four opponents to scoring less than 10 points in a single game on four different occasions during the 2005 campaign. Penn State limited No. 19 Ohio State to scoring just nine points in the second game of the match on Nov. 2, just three matches after holding No. 12 Minnesota to nine points in the first game of the match on Oct. 22. Then on back to back nights in the First and Second Round of the NCAA Tournament, the Lions held Binghamton and Long Island to just eight points in a single game, the fewest points since Northwestern scored just eight points on Nov. 12, 2004. Since the inception of rally scoring in 2001, Penn State has held opponents to single-digit scoring in a 30-point game on just eight occasions, and only three times in a Big Ten match.

• With its win over Northwestern on Oct. 29, Penn State joined an elite group of schools that have more than 900 program wins. UCLA (1,004), Missouri State (971), BYU (968), Nebraska (966), Long Beach State (948), Penn State (910), Hawaii (908) and Texas (906) are the only programs in the nation to surpass the milestone.

• Since the NCAA started sponsoring volleyball in 1981, only three teams in the country have appeared in all 25 tournaments. Penn State joins Stanford and UC Santa Barbara as the elite programs to accomplish the feat. The Nittany Lions have compiled an overall record of 43-24 (.642) in the NCAA Tournament, including nine trips to the NCAA Regional Final, five trips to the NCAA Semifinals (1993, 1994, 1997, 1998, 1999) and one national championship (1999).

BIG TEN CONFERENCE

THIS IS THE BIG TEN CONFERENCE

The Big Ten Conference is an association of 11 world-class universities whose member institutions share a common mission of research, graduate, professional and undergraduate teaching and public service. Intercollegiate athletics has an important place within the mission.

Founded in 1896, the Big Ten has sustained a comprehensive set of shared practices and policies that enforce the priority of academics in student-athletes' lives and emphasize the values of integrity, fairness and competitiveness. Big Ten universities provide in excess of $89 million in athletic scholarship aid to more than 8,400 men and women student-athletes who compete for 25 championships, 12 for men and 13 for women. In 2005-06, the Big Ten distributed over $117 million in revenues to its 11 member institutions. Conference institutions sponsor broad-based athletic programs with more than 270 teams.

BIG TEN UNIVERSITIES ...

- are members of the nation's only conference whose constituency is entirely composed of institutions that are members of the AAU, a prestigious association of major academic and research institutions in the United States and Canada.
- have more than four million living alumni and over 300,000 undergraduate students attending Big Ten universities.
- house on their campuses nine of the nation's 30 largest academic libraries. Conference libraries hold more than 66 million book volumes and institutions freely share their materials with other league members.

ATHLETIC PROGRAMS IN THE BIG TEN CONFERENCE...

- have created in excess of 2,000 new opportunities for women student-athletes and established 28 new women's teams.
- have, based on the federal graduation rate average for the 1995-98 freshman classes, graduated at 70 percent compared to 62 percent for all Division I student-athletes. As a conference, student-athletes tend to graduate at rates consistent with the general student body (71 percent). In 2006, the NCAA also introduced a new calculation– the Graduation Success Rate (GSR) – that accounts for transfer student-athletes. The Big Ten's GSR was 81 percent compared to the Division I average of 76 percent.
- recognized 1,992 Academic All-Big Ten honorees during the 2005-06 academic year, the highest total in the last decade. Over the past five years, the Conference has annually acknowledged nearly 1,700 student-athletes as Academic All-Conference honorees.
- have claimed at least four team national championships in seven of the last nine full seasons, including six national titles during 1999-2000 alone, the most for the conference in more than a decade. Big Ten national champions in 2005-06 included Northwestern women's lacrosse and three national crowns for Wisconsin in men's cross country and men's and women's ice hockey. The conference has also produced team national crowns in the sports of basketball, fencing, field hockey, football, golf, gymnastics, soccer, softball, synchronized swimming, tennis, volleyball and wrestling over those nine seasons.
- has led all conferences with nine institutions appearing among the top 30 in the 2005 Excellence in Athletics Cup, which was established in 2004 by the Laboratory for the Study of Intercollegiate Athletics at Texas A&M to recognize all-around achievement in athletics. The athletic departments for all NCAA Division I schools were evaluated based upon on-field success, graduation rate indicators, gender equity indicators and efficiency in using financial resources. While conferences were not ranked in the second annual study, the Big Ten was rated as the best among the six major conferences in the initial Excellence in Athletics Cup. The conference ranked among the top two in four categories including first in overall graduation rates and achieving gender equity and second in African-American student-athlete graduation rates and NCAA postseason competition.
- showcased more than 300 events that were televised nationally, regionally and locally last year, representing over 600 hours of programming.
- are among the national attendance leaders in football, men's and women's basketball and women's volleyball. During 2005–06, more than 8.2 million fans attended Big Ten home contests in those sports.

BIG TEN 9-11 SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Following the national tragedy on September 11, 2001, the Big Ten Conference, through its intercollegiate athletic department revenues, pledged a $1 million scholarship contribution to assist the families of those affected by the terrorist attacks. The Big Ten made a presentation to Lumina Foundation for Education and the Citizens' Scholarship Foundation of America™ (CSFA) to provide undergraduate and graduate degree scholarships at Big Ten Conference member institutions. The Conference's donation is called the "Big Ten 9-11 Scholarship Fund." The $1 million contribution will be drawn from Conference reserves, which are generated as a result of football and men's basketball participation in NCAA, bowl and regular season television opportunities.

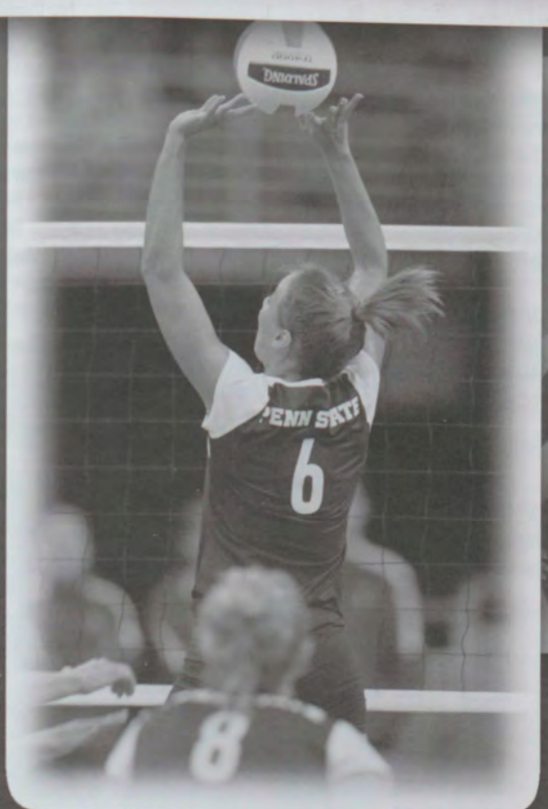
NINE BIG TEN CHAMPIONSHIPS IN 15 YEARS

2005 In Review

Highlights • Final Statistics and Box Scores



We Are . . . Penn State

Penn State Claims Ninth Big Ten Title, Advances to 25th Consecutive NCAA Tournament

With its 31-3 record for the 2005 season - including a 20-0 Big Ten mark, Penn State advanced to its 25th consecutive NCAA Tournament, reaching the Regional Semifinals. The Nittany Lions defeated Binghamton and Long Island before falling to Tennessee in four games in University Park, Pa. Penn State has an NCAA Tournament record of 45-24, including a 30-3 mark at Rec Hall.

Three-Peat

For the third consecutive year, the outright Big Ten title is in the hands of the Nittany Lions. With a 3-0 win over Illinois on Nov. 12, Penn State captured its ninth conference title in 15 years since joining the league for the 1991 season. The Nittany Lions have now captured the outright Big Ten title six times (1993, 1998, 1999, 2003, 2004, 2005) and shared the title three times (1992, 1996, 1997). The streak of three is second only to the Penn State squads that won the title four consecutive years from 1996 to 1999, culminating in a national championship in 1999. The 2005 title also secures that every class since 1992 will have at least one Big Ten title during their tenure at PSU.

Five AVCA All-Americans

Five Nittany Lions were named All-Americans by the AVCA. Sam Tortorello picked up first team team honors for the second straight year, Nicole Fawcett and Melissa Walbridge earned second team honors and Christa Harmotto and Kaleena Walters both were named honorable mention.

The selections bring Penn State's total number of All-America honorees to 45 since 1979. Head coach Russ Rose has coached at least one All-American in 26 of his 27 seasons at Penn State.

➤ Nicole Fawcett picked up AVCA National and Big Ten Freshman of the Year honors and was also named a second team All-American by the AVCA.

➤ Kaleena Walters earned Penn State's first-ever Big Ten Defensive Player of the Year accolades.

Fawcett Racks Up FOY Awards

In addition to earning AVCA Mideast Regional Freshman of the Year accolades and picking up Penn State's fourth consecutive Big Ten Freshman of the Year honors, Nicole Fawcett also walked away with the top national honor in the country. She was named the AVCA National Freshman of the Year, the first award of its kind for the Nittany Lion women's volleyball program.

Penn State Sweep

For the first time in Big Ten history, one school swept all four major conference honors. Sam Tortorello was named the unanimous Player of the Year and Nicole Fawcett picked up unanimous Freshman of the Year honors. Kaleena Walters was tabbed the Defensive Player of the Year and Nittany Lion mentor Russ Rose earned Coach of the Year honors.

Tortorello is Penn State's first Player of the Year since Lauren Cacciamani in 1999 and Fawcett is the Lions' conference-record fourth consecutive Freshman of the Year, joining Tortorello in 2002, junior Cassy Salyer in 2003 and sophomore Kate Price in 2004, along with four-time All-American Bonnie Bremner, who picked up the award in 1996. Walters earns Penn State's first-ever Defensive Player of the Year honor as Rose picks up his seventh conference Coach of the Year accolade.

All-Big Ten Lion-Loaded

Penn State student-athletes earned five of the 13 spots on the 2005 All-Big Ten team, a league record for one team. The previous high for teammates on the All-Big Ten squad was four, set by Penn State in 1993, 1996 and 1998 and Wisconsin in 1997. Sam Tortorello and Nicole Fawcett were unanimous selections to the squad as Kaleena Walters, Melissa Walbridge and Christa Harmotto also earned the honor. The Lions' five All-Big Ten honors bring Penn State's total number of All-Big Ten selections to 60 since joining the league for the 1991 season. The All-Big Ten honor is the third of Tortorello's career and the second consecutive accolade for Walters. Walbridge, Harmotto and Fawcett all earn their first career honor.

➤ Two-time AVCA First Team All-American Sam Tortorello was a finalist for the Honda Award for the second consecutive year.

Fawcett and Harmotto are two of four Penn State freshmen to ever be named All-Big Ten, joining Bonnie Bremner and Lauren Cacciamani, who earned the honor in 1996. Fawcett and Harmotto were also two of six players named to the 2005 All-Freshman team, the Lions' sixth and seventh members of the squad since it began in 1999.

Nearly Perfect

With three-game sweeps of Michigan State and Michigan over Thanksgiving weekend, Penn State secured its third perfect conference record since joining the league in 1991. The last time Penn State went 20-0 for the Big Ten season was 1999. Since 1985 when double round-robin play was instituted in the Big Ten, only six times has the conference champion gone undefeated, including Illinois in 1986 & 1988 with 18-0 records, Ohio State in 1991 with a 20-0 record and Penn State in 1998, 1999 and 2005 with 20-0 marks.

Not only did the Nittany Lions not drop a match in conference play, the squad tied the Big Ten record for the fewest games dropped in an undefeated conference season since 1985. The 2005 Penn State team lost only three individual games during the Big Ten season, a mark that equaled the 1998 Penn State team. The 1991 Ohio State team dropped only four games, the 1986 Illinois team lost only six sets, the 1999 Nittany Lion squad dropped seven games and the 1988 Illinois team lost only eight total games.

Who Said 30 Was Bad?

With the NCAA First Round win over Binghamton on Friday, Dec. 2, Penn State secured its 18th 30-win season under head coach Russ Rose, its first since the 2003 season when it went 31-5.

And They're Smart Too!

Kaleena Walters was tabbed a First Team Academic All-District II selection as sophomore middle hitter Melissa Walbridge earned Second Team Academic All-District II honors from ESPN The Magazine. Walters held a 3.48 grade point average in Psychology as Walbridge holds a 3.94 grade point average in Integrative Arts.

Penn State Claims Ninth Big Ten Title, Advances to 25th Consecutive NCAA Tournament

With its 31-3 record for the 2005 season - including a 20-0 Big Ten mark, Penn State advanced to its 25th consecutive NCAA Tournament, reaching the Regional Semifinals. ➤ Kaleena Walters earned Penn State's first-ever Big Ten Defensive Player of the Year accolades.

Fawcett Racks Up FOY Awards

In addition to earning AVCA Mideast Regional Freshman of the Year accolades and picking up Penn State's fourth consecutive Big Ten Freshman of the Year honors, Nicole Fawcett also walked away with the top national honor in the country. She was named the AVCA National Freshman of the Year, the first award of its kind for the Nittany Lion women's volleyball program.

Penn State Sweep

For the first time in Big Ten history, one school swept all four major conference honors. 2005 HIGHLIGHTS

Tortorello Among the Elite

With her 52 assists versus Seton Hall on Sept. 16, 2005, Sam Tortorello surpassed 5,000 assists for her career, becoming only the fourth Nittany Lion in Penn State history to accomplish the feat. She joined three All-Americans (Michelle Jaworski, Bonnie Bremner and Salima Davidson) in reaching the plateau. Then, with her 40 assists at Michigan on Nov. 26, 2005, Tortorello passed Bremner to move into second on the career chart. In her final season with the Nittany Lions, she became only the second player in Penn State history to record more than 6,000 career assists with her 40 assists versus Long Island on Dec. 3. Also on Dec. 3, Tortorello added another accolade to her long list, becoming the all-time Big Ten leader for career assists, passing Minnesota's Sharon Oesterling ('86-'89) who previously held the mark with 6,024 career assists. Tortorello finished her Lion career with 6,087 career assists, good for second on the all-time list.

Walters Atop The Charts

Kaleena Walters owns the top two single-season digs records and is the only player in Penn State history to record more than 600 digs in a season, and on Oct. 14 against Michigan, she added another accolade to her list: career digs leader. With her second dig versus the Wolverines, Walters surpassed Kim Kumfer (1989-92) to claim the overall mark. She also had an impressive streak going. Walters recorded double-digit dig figures in 102 of the last 114 matches dating back to 2002.

Butterflies? What Butterflies?!

Nicole Fawcett may say she gets butterflies before every match, but they certainly didn't show in her first collegiate weekend of NCAA Tournament play. Against Binghamton on Dec. 2, Fawcett racked up a match-high 18 kills, two more than the entire Bearcat squad, while hitting .720 without an error for the match. The following night against Long Island, Fawcett connected on 16 of her 18 errorless swings to hit a blistering .889, good for a new career high and a new NCAA Tournament record for hitting percentage. The previous record of .800 was held by Toni Himmer of San Diego State against Colorado State, set on Dec. 4, 1983. For the weekend, Fawcett posted 34 kills for an average of 5.67 kills per game without an error to hit .791 (34-0-43), also averaging 2.00 digs per game and 0.50 blocks per game and service aces per game.

SINCE JOINING THE BIG TEN CONFERENCE FOR THE 1991 SEASON, PENN STATE STUDENT-ATHLETES HAVE EARNED A TOTAL OF 43 FIRST TEAM ALL-BIG TEN SELECTIONS.

Lion Bits

- Penn State won 23 of its last 26 matches by a 3-0 margin and only dropped six games during that span.
- In 108 total 30-point games of the season, the Nittany Lions allowed their opponents to score more than 25 points on just 27 occasions (25%), holding opponents to 20 or fewer points in 48 of those 107 games (45%).
- The Nittany Lions have won 31 consecutive Big Ten matches, dating back to a five-game loss to Ohio State on Oct. 20, 2004. Twenty-five of those 31 wins have come in three games, including 17 of the last 18.
- In 20 conference matches in 2005, Penn State allowed its opponent to score more than 25 points in a single game on just eight occasions out of 63 total league games (13%). The Nittany Lions held league opponents to 20 points or less in 27 of 63 games (43%).
- Penn State won 60 of 63 individual games during the 2005 Big Ten season, tying the league record.
- In conference contests, Penn State allowed opponents to hit only .094. In addition, opponents only averaged 1.89 blocks per game, compared to 1.63 individually from Melissa Walbridge.
- The senior class of Sam Tortorello, Kaleena Walters and Kim Holm was 69-11 in league matches over the last four years, including 38-2 in the last two seasons.

Streak Stoppers

Penn State's 3-2 comeback win at Hawaii on Sept. 2 marked the first time in 40 matches that the Rainbow Wahine had lost at the Stan Sheriff Center. Hawaii's 39-match streak was the longest in the nation before the loss, dating back to the 2002 season.

Shock and Awe

The Nittany Lions produced their own version of shock and awe on the road at Iowa and Minnesota on Oct. 21-22. Penn State attacked at a .420 clip with 14.0 blocks at Iowa while holding the Hawkeyes to a .127 hitting percentage with one total block. The following night, Penn State held Minnesota to hitting -.275 (4-15-40) in the first game for a match hitting percentage of -.051, the lowest of any Nittany Lion opponent in 2005. Penn State hit .368 in the match with 14.5 team blocks as every Nittany Lion player hit .300 or higher against the Gophers, the league-leader in opponent hitting percentage. For the weekend, Penn State hit .395 compared to .035 for its opponents, leading in kills (99-64), digs (87-65) and blocks (28.5-6.0).

PENN STATE IS ONE OF ONLY FIVE SCHOOLS IN THE NATION WHOSE WOMEN'S AND MEN'S VOLLEYBALL PROGRAMS HAVE CAPTURED AN NCAA NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP TITLE.

Long Beach State, Stanford, UCLA, USC

Big Ten Titles For Everyone!!

The women's volleyball Big Ten title marks one of five conference championships for Penn State in the fall of 2005. The women's soccer team captured its eighth consecutive championship on Oct. 23 with a 3-0 defeat of Michigan State and the men's soccer team claimed its third title by winning the Big Ten Tournament with a 1-0 win over defending national champion Indiana on Nov. 13. The field hockey team finished the conference portion of the schedule with its first-ever undefeated league season with a 4-3 overtime win over Indiana on Oct. 28 to capture its fourth Big Ten title. And the football team clinched a tie for the title with a win over Michigan State on Nov. 19, earning the school's first-ever Bowl Championship Series bid via the tiebreaker over Ohio State.

Walbridge Finds The Mark

Walbridge led the team with a hitting percentage of .413, good for sixth in the country. Of her 34 matches, she has 10 matches where she has not recorded an error, and eight more matches with just one hitting error. In these 18 matches, Walbridge has racked up 134 kills with just eight errors on 233 total attempts to hit .541.

Condensing Player of the Week

Five Penn State players earned 10 Big Ten Player of the Week honors, bringing the Lions' total to 44 awards since joining the conference for the 1991 season. Below is a summary:

Kaleena Walters:

Four-time Defensive Player of the Week,

- Aug. 29: averaged 4.88 digs per game against #4 Stanford and #3 Hawaii.
- Sept. 5: averaged 6.00 digs per game at #3 Hawaii and vs. Western Michigan and #7 USC
- Oct. 17: became PSU's career digs leader with 28 digs versus Michigan and Michigan State
- Oct. 31: averaged 6.57 digs per game against #11 Wisconsin and Northwestern

Walters joins Ohio State's Stacey Gordon (2002, 2003) and Vanessa Wouters (1996) and Illinois' Mary Eggers (1986) as the only players in league history to garner four awards in one season. Gordon holds the conference record with five selections in 2004 and Lauren Cacciamani holds the Penn State record for career selections with five from 1996-99.

Nicole Fawcett:

First PSU freshman to ever receive POW honors - did so in first weekend of Big Ten play

- Sept. 26: averaged 5.12 kills per game on .342 hitting with 1.50 digs per game and 0.62 blocks per game versus Illinois and #19 Purdue. Led all players in kills both matches.
- Nov. 14: averaged 4.33 kills per game on .429 hitting with 2.00 digs per game and 1.00 blocks per game at #14 Purdue and Illinois.
- Nov. 28: averaged 5.33 kills per game on .407 hitting with 1.83 digs per game at Michigan State and Michigan. Fell one block shy of her career high with four at Michigan State.

Sam Tortorello:

Also first-career AVCA/Sports Imports National Player of the Week; third career Big Ten honor

- Oct. 3: Against #18 Ohio State and Indiana, directed an offense that hit a combined .338 with an average of 14.83 assists per game, also recording three kills, two aces, 13 digs and five blocks.

Christa Harmotto:

First career Big Ten honor, only the second PSU freshman to ever earn honor

- Oct. 10: Averaged 3.83 kills per game on .541 hitting with 1.17 blocks per game at Northwestern and #8 Wisconsin. Hit a career-high .769 (10-0-13) at NU.

Cassy Salyer :

First career Big Ten honor

- Oct. 31: Reached double-digit kills and hit higher than .460 in both matches against #11 Wisconsin and Northwestern. Averaged 3.86 kills per game on .468 hitting with 1.00 blocks per game.

Nittany Lions exorcise past demons by sweeping Stanford

By Ann Miller
ADVERTISER STAFF WRITER

Penn State won its first NCAA Women's Volleyball Championship last night. Winning over the demons that plagued it the past two years was just a bonus.

The top-ranked Nittany Lions blew second-ranked Stanford away, 15-2, 15-10, 15-7, before 7,378 at Stan Sheriff Center. The sell-out Hawaii crowd (minus 2,700 no-shows) watched one of the most one-sided finals in NCAA history. Its only sign of life came between the second and third games, when Hawaii senior Heather Bown was announced with the All-America teams.

Maybe the crowd was in shock. Penn State's charge to its first championship — and only the third for a team outside of Hawaii or California — wasn't that surprising, but its dominance was.

A year ago, the Nittany Lions lost their unbeaten season in a five-game NCAA final against Long Beach State. Two years ago, the Cardinal won its fourth NCAA title in five games, also against Penn State.

The Nittany Lions had become the Stanford of the '90s. In those early years, the Cardinal was good enough to get to six final fours, but never good enough to win. That changed in 1992. Going into last night, Stanford was 9-1 and the decade's darling.

The 'W's are almost over. The Nittany Lions, who won their last 36 matches after a season-opening loss, are now the team to beat. Seniors Bonnie Bremner, Carrie Schonveld and Lauren Cacciamani, the tournament MVP a second straight year, finished their careers 136-7.

"This is a marvelous occasion for those who have been in the game a long time," Penn State coach Russ Rose said softly, without a hint of emotion.

Bremner, the All-American setter who had feuded with her coach all season, was just as composed, but didn't try to hide her joy.

"The last two years motivated me," said Bremner, who started every match for four years. "I can't get those back. I lived with that everyday. I wanted to live with something else, something better."

Last night, the Nittany Li-

THIRD TIME A CHARM AS LIONS CLAIM NCAA TITLE

HONOLULU--In just one hour and 20 minutes, the top-ranked Penn State women's volleyball team erased memories of five game losses in the previous two title matches by sweeping Stanford for the first NCAA volleyball national championship in school history. The Nittany Lions defeated the Cardinal 15-2, 15-10, 15-7 in front of a sold-out crowd of 10,252 fans at the Stan Sheriff Center at the University of Hawaii.

"I think we set the stage for the win in the first game when we had 10 blocks," said head coach Russ Rose. "We had a great game plan and the players played with passion and enthusiasm right out of the chute. I believe the players are the ones that placed themselves in a position to get into this situation and I thought they handled all the distractions that normally come in a match like this as well as they possible could."

> "I think we had a great game plan and the players played with a lot of passion and enthusiasm right out of the chute."

> – Head coach Russ Rose on defeating Stanford for the NCAA Championship

It was a perfect ending for the three seniors who had started in the previous two title matches. Each of the trio played one of their best matches of the year, including senior Lauren Cacciamani who was named the Most Outstanding Player after pounding out a match-high 20 kills with eight blocks. Also the 1999 National Co-Player of the Year, she and the rest of the team weren't about to fall behind by two games again this year.

"We did get an opportunity to watch a lot of film and we knew that we had to come out and jump on them," Cacciamani said. "We were going to try to go out there and dictate instead of having them show us what was going to go on. We were planning on going out strong and with a lot of fight."

Seniors Bonnie Bremner and Carrie Schonveld were also named to the NCAA Championship All-Tournament team. Bremner dished out 37 assists with four kills of her own. She also hit .333 with six digs and a pair of blocks. Schonveld had nine kills to go with her team-high 10 digs. The outside hitter hit .368 on the night and also aided at the net with three blocks (1 BS, 2 BA).

The Lions were banking on their previous championship experience and it finally paid off. "We played well and at times we wanted to keep the ball in play and hope that they would make mistakes," Bremner said. "They're a big team that's going to get a lot of kills, but we were also figuring they would make mistakes."

The Penn State blockers created a wall that the Stanford hitters could not avoid. Fueled by Cacciamani's eight blocks, the Lions held the Cardinal to a season-low -.008 hitting percentage as 1999 Co-Player of the Year Kerri Walsh zeroed out (11k-11e-33ta). They also held 1999 Freshman-of-the-Year Logan Tom to negative numbers (7k-10e-31ta, -.097)

Redshirt-freshman Mishka Levy and sophomore Katie Schumacher each added five blocks--both with one solo and four assisted. Each of the six players that rotated to the front row recorded at least one block as Penn State ended the evening with 15 to Stanford's 10.5.

"We blocked incredibly well and with patience," Rose said. "We blocked 10 balls and they had nine hitting errors in addition to that (in the first game), in my opinion they never got into a flow and I think some of their younger players weren't ready for that. We knew what we wanted to do and we recognized that a couple of players were going to be able to get their kills. We had a game plan that we felt comfortable about and believed would be successful."

Schumacher also added nine kills with three each from Levy and sophomore Amanda Rome.

The Lions only trailed during one part of the match. Down 3-1 in game two, the Lions rolled off three-consecutive points to resume the lead and never looked back the rest of the way. It was the first time this season the Cardinal had been swept.

The Lions end the season with a 36-1 mark with the only loss coming in the season opener to Florida on Aug. 27. It was a matter off pulling things together to end the season on a high note.

> "We didn't peak at the beginning of the season, obviously. We progressed and got better as the season wore on. The younger people got a lot better and the older people became better leaders and got it together as well. So it was an uphill progression leading towards the end."
> – Senior Lauren Cacciamani on losing the first match of the year before closing out the season with 36 straight wins.

"We didn't peak at the beginning of the season, obviously," Cacciamani said. "We lost our first match so we knew we wouldn't go undefeated. We did a good job playing as a team. We progressed and got better as the season wore on. The younger people improved and the older people became better leaders and kept it together as well. So it was an uphill progression leading towards the end."

FINISHING ON TOP

The class of 1999 – Bonnie Bremner, Lauren Cacciamani, Kalna Miller and Carrie Schonveld – had been through it before but their final year had a different, even storybook ending. After losing in the regionals finals as freshmen, these four followed up with a pair of NCAA Semifinal appearances that led to five-game losses in the title match. Those memories were all erased with a three-game sweep of Stanford for the first women's volleyball title in school history.

What the seniors were a part of is nothing short of incredible. They helped Penn State to an amazing 137-5 record with a share of two Big Ten championships (1996 & 1997) before winning it outright in 1998 and 1999. The quartet also compiled a 77-3 mark (.963) in Big Ten matches, including consecutive 20-0 seasons over the past two years. They made Penn State the first school in Big Ten history to win four consecutive crowns and never lost a match at home.

HOME SWEET HOME

Talk about a home-court advantage – the four seniors never even lost a match and dropped only nine games in University Park.

The 1999 senior class took the court in Rec Hall 78 times in their four years and each time they left with a win – a large part of the reason Penn State owns the NCAA record for consecutive home wins at 87.

What's even more amazing is the manner in which Penn State has won at home. During the seniors last 62 matches in Rec Hall, only Wisconsin (twice) and Texas (twice) were able to take a game. But it gets better...in the 80 consecutive home wins the class was a part of, 72 of those were three-game sweeps and the Lions never had to play five games.

2005 TOUR OF ITALY & SLOVENIA

May 10

Dobrodosli ("welcome") to the Penn State Volleyball European tour 2005! Today was our first full day here and we have already done so much! Staying in the scenic city of Izola, we are pretty immersed in Slovenian culture. It's been drizzling a bit but we are staying right on the harbor of the Adriatic coast in the Hotel Marina and it is absolutely gorgeous. The brightly-colored buildings, green mountains and crystal clear sea make everything seem sunny. There is not a whole lot of English spoken here, so we stick out a lil' bit. The people have been pretty nice for the most part though, and we've managed to learn a bit of Slovenian: please = "prosim", thank you = "hvala", how much = "koliko" and "bela kava brez koffeina" = decaff cafe latte... I've already used that one about 4 times. All the girls are having a great time. We practiced last night after we got in and then played our first match today against a club team from Croatia. They were pretty young so we won all 5 games easily. We travel to the capital city of LJubljana tomorrow to play another match and see the sites. We will leave early in the morning to tour the city and then play in the afternoon. Tim and Jo from BringItUSA have really planned out a great trip for us. All the girls are really excited and the parents and boosters are having a good time too... with a few exceptions. So far the Naylors lost their luggage and got locked out of their room, the Janias tried to use a $1USD in an Italian Coke machine and then got their debit card chopped up in Izola, and Mrs. Holm tried to play matchmaker with the manager of a Slovenian pizzeria (which would be alright if the service wasn't so sub-par). So, to sum up... everyone is over their jetlag, we're loving Slovenia, and can't wait to get some more competition under our belts as we continue to travel the world!! Ciao!

Kim Holm and the Penn State Women's Volleyball team

Ciao! Greetings from Slovenia. We started off this morning with a European breakfast at The Hotel Marina and then headed off to spend the day in Ljubljana, the capital of Slovenia. Upon arrival, we went to the tourist information center and got brochures of the entire city followed by a train ride to the medieval Ljubljana Castle. The castle is a fine feature of the city and nowadays it is a popular tourist spot. After the train ride back into the city square, we split up for a day of site seeing and fun. Our next step was a bus ride to our match. We played five games against a team called Nova Gorica, winning four of the five games. The match was very lively with a few face shots and a lot of cheering. The owner of the gym we played in also owned a restaurant nearby and he invited us to enjoy his five course cuisine. The food and atmosphere was amazing and the team, coaches, parents, and boosters all had a fabulous time. Tomorrow we leave Slovenia and are off to Venice, Italy.

Today we finally woke up to the blue skies of Slovenia, only to say goodbye as we loaded the bus to continue on to Venice, Italy. After the bus ride we laced up our sneakers, stole the nearest "Vaporetto" (a motorboat used as a canal bus in Venice) and raced to the city - it was all Sam's idea! (Okay, so maybe the dramatic entrance is a slight exaggeration, but you know how girls can be.) After we docked near Piazza San Marco, the real adventures began. We had the entire day to absorb the city, and that we did. These are some of the interesting things I learned today:

1.) Imagine literally stepping into a world unlike anything you have ever seen. Imagine walking through massive crowds of people all speaking different languages. Now imagine seeing absolutely breathtaking architecture and scenery all around you. And finally, imagine 14 young American women (plus one Canadian) gracefully dodging hundreds of swooping pigeons while trying to take it all in at once. Thankfully, we all have cat-like reflexes and nobody was seriously injured.

2.) It's true what they say - Italian men really aren't afraid to sweep a woman off her feet! Maggie, Ashley Fidler, Melissa and I ate a delicious meal along the Grand Canal and as we were thanking the waiters and saying goodbye, the chef came from behind the counter, pinched my cheeks and picked me up in the middle of the restaurant! I am 6-5 ... he was probably 5-7 ... you do the math! Today marks the first time any man has dared to accomplish what he did. Sorprendente! (Amazing!)

On a more serious note, today was a perfect example of why we are so thankful to be in Italy doing what we love, and we are thankful to be sharing it with some of the people who helped make it possible. We were all able to see Venice through our own eyes and learned a lot about the culture and history. We split up into different groups and spent the day shopping and exploring all the city has to offer. It was a beautiful day in Venice, but there is still work to be done! We left the sinking city behind and drove to Pordenone, where we will play the local team tomorrow night. Kim and Kaleena have been playing very well, so tomorrow will be a good opportunity for some new faces to step up and contribute! We will keep you posted, but until next time, there is volleyball to be played and more dessert to be eaten! CIAO!

Boun Giorno fellow Americanos (Good morning fellow Americans!). We spent day 6 in Pordenone. After breakfast most of us enjoyed the downtown shopping of the city. This city was most like the cities that we are used to in the United States. There are more cars and traffic here department store. In the afternoon we ventured to the Villa Manin, which is a palace of the former Doge. The enormous structure and beautiful architecture were overwhelming. Unique art lined the walls of one of the sections of the castle, while other sections displayed old weaponry and carriages. The chapel was detailed in elegant artwork. We did not have the opportunity to view the actual rooms of the castle because of restoration, but we were told that Napoleon had slept there and that his room was preserved. From the castle we came back to the hotel to enjoy the traditional Italian pregame meal, which was actually breakfast. This included cereal, fruit, yogurt, and various pastries. On the way to the gym our tour guides indulged us with the translations of a local newspaper article that was about the team being in the town. The article was informative and contained a picture of us receiving our Big Ten trophy. The match was held at a nearby town owned gym. We won four out of the five games that we played against Pallavolo Pordenone in front of a very lively crowd. The match was the most the competitive one since we have been here and was fun to play in. After we played, we ate dinner (at 10:30 at night). It is custom to eat pasta as an appetizer, but we did not know this before so most of us ate it as a meal. Little did we know that we were also having meat, fries, salad, and dessert! It was a great ending to a wonderful day! Arrivederci (goodbye)!!

Ciao fellow Americans and Canadians,

Well, our arrival into Pesaro came on our official graduation day, had we been in State College. So, as our final college project, here is our journal entry! On the bus yesterday, driving from Pordenone to Pesaro, we had to present our research on the Marche region to everyone on the bus, complete with our graduation caps!

We are planning on spending 3 days total in this region, the first two in Pesaro, and the third in Comunanza. The region is pronounced "lay markay," and in English, it translates to "the Marches." The region lies on the eastern seaboard in central Italy, bordered by the Adriatic Sea to the east, and the Appenine mountains to the central part of the country. Pesaro is the capital city of this province, and is a bustling seaside resort town. Fortunately, we're here before most of the tourist season begins, so we've had the town all to ourselves!

When we arrived to our beachfront hotel yesterday, we all ate lunch together, before we had a bit of down time last night. A few of us had the opportunity to accompany Coach Rose and Tim Kelly (in charge of our tour, he runs Bring It USA) to a professional women's volleyball match in a small town about 1.5 hours away from here. The gymnasium was full of enthusiastic and loud spectators, and it was a lot of fun! It was a match between the 2nd and 3rd place teams in the A2 division of the Italian professional league, with the winner of this match having the opportunity to move up to the A1 league next year. Wiz Bachman, former UCLA standout, was playing for the team that ended up losing in four games.

Today we had some free time to take in the sites of Pesaro, which is the hometown of famed opera composer, Giaochino Rossini. This evening we had a chance to play our fourth match, against a team from Gabiche, Italy, about 15 minutes from Pesaro. We won the four games we played in the match, and every member of the team had a chance to play.

Tomorrow we'll have a chance to go to and Italian Catholic mass if we want, before getting back on the road and heading over to Comunanza. From what we've heard so far, it's a small mountain town, about 3 blocks long and 1 block wide. We'll be there only one night, and the gentleman who runs the hotel/restaurant where we'll be staying is so excited to host all of us! People drive from miles around to eat at his restaurant, so we're looking forward to tasting the food for ourselves!! We have two matches left on this trip, one tomorrow night in Comunanza, and the last in Rome on Tuesday night. Buonas sera from Italy!

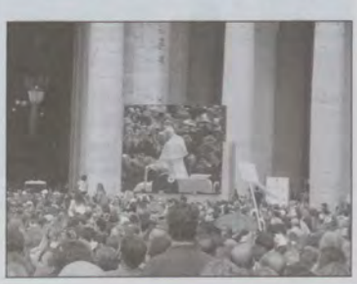
After winding through the Italian hillsides, our team arrived in the town of Comunanza. The town was small with a population of around 3,000 people. We stayed where executives generally stayed when they would visit the major factory just outside of the town. It was very nice place to stay as five of the girls got to stay in a 3-bedroom apartment that had two bathrooms and a dining room. Once we got settled in our rooms the team got on our jerseys and walked to the gym. We played a club team from Amandola. Their team was short a few players so Ashley Fidler volunteered to play with the other team. We won the match in 3 games, while Kris Brown and Kaleena even got a chance to play front row. That night we had what most of the team considered our best meal of the trip. It was a traditional Italian family meal with multiple courses and elaborate dishes. One of the first dishes we ate was intestine and eggs. It was a long meal the lasted late into the night.

The next morning we were off to begin our long drive to Rome. We wove through the mountains and hills on roads that you wouldn't think buses could travel through. After nearly a five-hour trip we finally arrived in Rome, the 'eternal city.' We checked into the hotel and were immediately off to the Metro station just a few blocks away. The Metro is very small and crowded because the designers of the Metro wanted to avoid digging railways under ancient Roman architecture. Our first stop took us to see the Spanish Steps, which was a series of three levels of steps leading up to a church. The lining of the steps was covered in flowers and it was a great place to take a team picture. Our next stop was the Trevi Fountain. This was the first elaborate sculpture work we saw in Rome and we were in awe. It is said that you must throw a coin into the fountain but you must throw the coin with your back facing the fountain. The number of coins you throw also determines your fortune. One coin and you'll return to Rome, two coins and you'll fall in love. With our backs facing the fountain, Maggie, Cassy, Fidler, and I threw in two coins each.

Our last stop of the day was to visit the Pantheon. As we walked inside we were amazed by the massive pillars holding the structure up. They lead us into a large circular dome with more sculptures and a roof with a giant circular hole allowing sunlight to pour inside. The basement of the building is also a resting place for people such as Raffaello a famous painter, Voltaire a philosopher, Murrie and Piere Currie both famous scientists as well as Victor Hugo the first president of unified Italy. After seeing the Pantheon we were all tired and grabbed some dinner, found the Metro and went back to our hotel.

Today (Tuesday, May 17th) we got up and again took the Metro to see the Coliseum. I stepped out of the station and all I could see was the building. The structure was built between 12AD and 80AD and most of it still remains standing today. When it was first built it was called the Amphitheatre Flavium, and held up to 50,000 people. It was used to hold battles between animals and humans along with chariot races and mock naval battles.. The rest of the day we were able to tour around and explore the city of Rome. Other sites we saw included the Forum, the Arch of Constantine, and the Monument of Vittoriale. All of the sites were unique and amazing in their own respect. It was odd to see such monuments scattered amongst current shops and restaurants including McDonalds.

Tonight we played our 6th and final match in a town of Usaro, which is thirty minutes to an hour away from Rome depending on traffic. We played one of our more competitive matches against a club team called As Fidia Ladispoli. We won all five games although it was a bittersweet victory. It was the last time our three seniors; Tab, Syndie and Ashley would play in their PSU uniforms. The club team had ordered pizza for us and we shared it with them before getting on the bus and heading back to Rome.



Tomorrow is our last full day. We are going to see the Vatican City in the morning and the Pope may be speaking. The trip is almost over and it is going very fast but I'm very excited to get up tomorrow and see the Sistine Chapel.

CARA Smith
All-American 2002-2003

"Looking back on my career, both athletically and academically, I think of the entire experience and it's a bigger picture than just athletics. I'm going to miss volleyball, but even more, I'm going to miss the people. The entire Penn State experience of being a part of a tradition and making a difference in the program, being an All-American is just an extra honor to cap off my entire career."

State College, Pa.; Oct. 6, 1997 - Penn State can now say it is truly the number one team in the country, as tonight it beat the USA Volleyball Women's National Team, 15-8, 15-13, 13-15, 15-12. Rec Hall was full of electricity as 2,211 fans cheered the Lions on in route to becoming the first college team to take a game from Team USA, much less win a match.

"We were aided by the home crowd and the excitement of the event---We had nothing to lose," said Penn State head coach Russ Rose. "I thought we played hard and competed hard. It was a great team victory."

Sophomore middle hitter Lauren Cacciamani (Paramus, N.J.) posted match-highs of 18 kills and 11 blocks to lead the Nittany Lions. Outside hitter Carrie Schonveld (Portage, Mich.) notched 14 kills, nine blocks and a team-high 16 digs, while junior outside Christy Cochran (Bethlehem, Pa.) posted 14 kills and 14 digs. In addition, sophomore setter Bonnie Bremner (Lisle, Ill.) had 56 assists and 15 digs.

Team USA was paced by outside hitter Karrie Downey and right side Allison Weston, who both notched 16 kills and 20 digs. Former Penn State All-American Salima Davidson, now the United States' starting setter and team captain, had 63 assists, 10 digs and five kills.

"I think they played a great match, they played like Penn State and that's the bottom line, " Davidson noted. "We played hard, but we could have played harder."

Penn State won game one easily, after racing to a 10-1 lead. Early on, game two was much the same, as the Lions used their momentum to go up 7-3, but Team USA battled back to take a 10-7 lead. However, Penn State's block woke up, as it rallied to take the game 15-13. For the match, Penn State out-blocked the national squad 22.5-11.

The third game was all Team USA, as it seized the lead early, and held on down the stretch. The final frame was a see-saw battle, as the lead changed hands numerous times. With the score tied at 12-12, Cacciamani put down a spike and senior middle hitter Terri Zemaitis (Downers Grove, Ill.) and junior opposite Lindsay Anderson (Crystal Lake, Ill.) had consecutive blocks to close out the match.

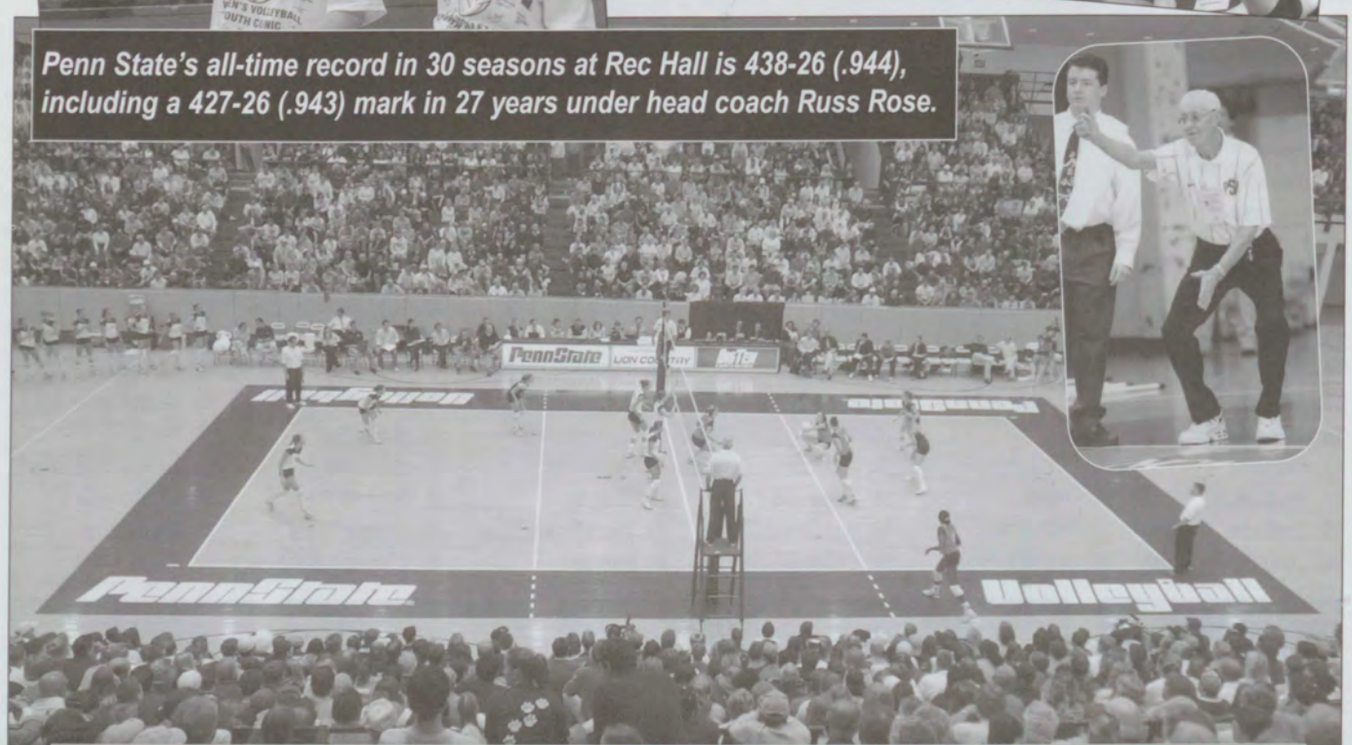
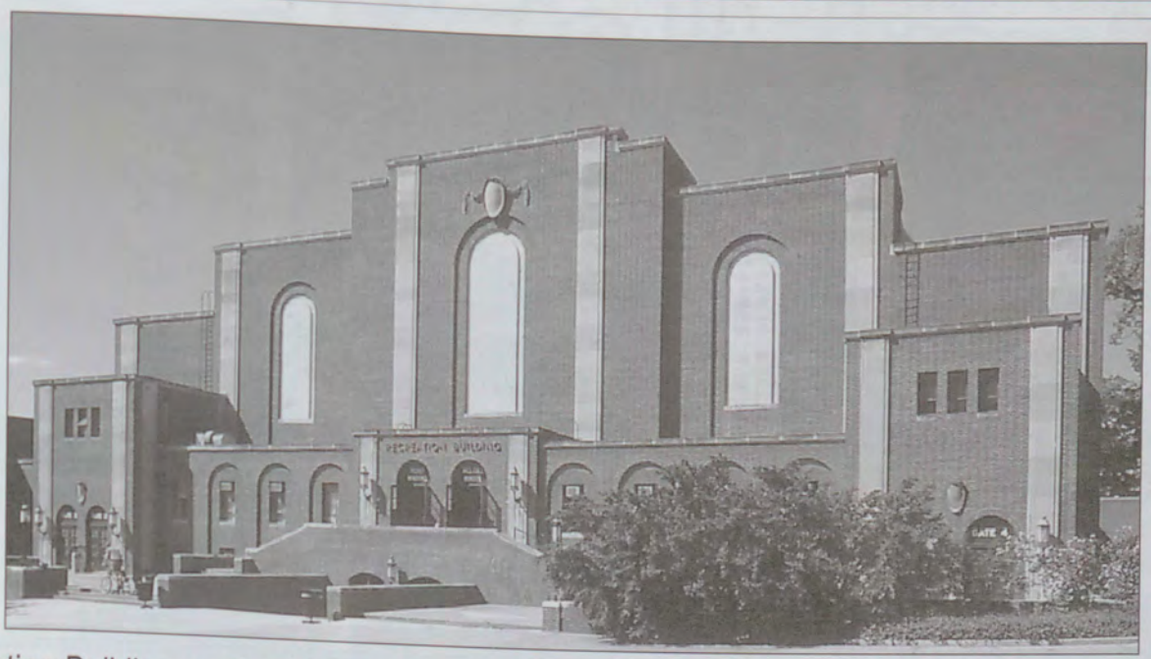
Penn State's all-time record in 30 seasons at Rec Hall is 438-26 (.944), including a 427-26 (.943) mark in 27 years under head coach Russ Rose.



Over the past seven years, the Nittany Lions hold a home match record of 118-11. Penn State will enter the 2006 season having won 191 of its last 223 games (86%) in the friendly confines of Rec Hall.

REC HALL - HOME OF THE NITTANY LIONS



Recreation Building, or Rec Hall as it is affectionately known, is the home of the Penn State men's and women's volleyball, men's and women's gymnastics and wrestling teams. Built in 1929, the gymnasium has hosted several different national and international competitions in various sports, including the 2002 NCAA Men's Volleyball National Collegiate Championship. In 2005-06, Rec Hall served as host for one of four of the 2005 NCAA Women's Volleyball Regionals and also as the home 2006 NCAA Men's Volleyball National Collegiate Championship.

The newly-renovated Penn State women's volleyball locker room, located in historic Rec Hall, features a meeting and scouting room, a lounge for studying and relaxing and state-of-the-art personal lockers for each student-athlete.

NITTANY LION BOOSTER CLUB

➤ Penn State women's volleyball has many supporters, including country music star Tim McGraw.

➤ Nittany Lion boosters hosted the team for brunch when Penn State was in California to play Stanford during the 2004 season.

➤ Russ Rose discusses the upcoming season with the Nittany Lion Volleyball Booster Club.

★ Nittany Lion Volleyball Booster Club ★

The club was formed to promote women's volleyball at Penn State and in the community and to provide support for the student-athletes and staff. The Club sponsors a preseason picnic, a postseason banquet and hospitality events after home matches. Persons interested in joining the Club may write:

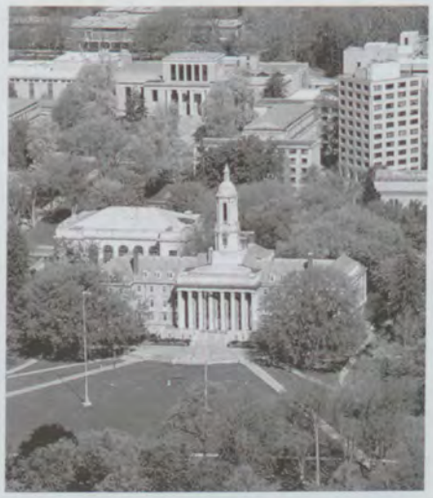
We Are . . . Penn State

THE UNIVERSITY

When Penn State opened its doors in 1859, 69 students enrolled. Today, the University reaches more than 5 million Pennsylvanians each year — not only in traditional classroom settings, but through a variety of programs ranging from Cooperative Extension to continuing education workshops, from sports camps to public broadcasting. Plus, thousands of additional students in all 50 states and more than 80 countries take advantage of learning opportunities through Penn State's World Campus and other outreach programs. A lot has changed over the past 150 years, but one guiding principle has not: Penn State still is committed to improving the quality of life for the citizens of Pennsylvania and beyond through teaching, research, and public service.

The state legislature chartered Penn State in 1855 at the request of the Pennsylvania State Agricultural Society. However, it took four years to develop the curriculum, recruit faculty and students, and find a location for the new college, whose goal was to apply scientific principles to farming — a radical departure from the traditional curriculum grounded in mathematics, rhetoric, and classical languages. The college had to be located in a suitable agricultural area, and many communities vied for the privilege of being home to the institution. Centre County was selected when farmer and ironmaster James Irvin of Bellefonte donated 200 acres for the campus.

Penn State's first president, Evan Pugh, drew on the scientific education he had received in Europe to expand the curriculum to include other scientific studies and engineering. Pugh and similar visionaries in other states won federal support for their innovative ideas in 1862, when Congress passed the Morrill Land-Grant Act. The act enabled states to sell federal land, invest the proceeds, and use the income to support colleges "where the leading object shall be, without excluding scientific and classical studies...to teach agriculture and the mechanic arts (engineering)...in order to promote the liberal and practical education of the industrial classes in all the pursuits and professions of life." In 1863, the legislature designated Penn State the Commonwealth's sole land-grant institution. But Pugh died the following year, the income from land sales was small, and the concept of land-grant education was temporarily forgotten. The college drifted, not being especially distinctive for any kind of study. One notable event during those years was the admission of the first women students in 1871.



In 1882, George W. Atherton became Penn State's seventh president. He introduced engineering studies, and the college soon became one of the nation's ten largest undergraduate engineering schools. He broadened the liberal arts, and Professor of English Fred Pattee taught the nation's first course in American literature (heretofore considered an unworthy stepchild of English literature). Professor of Agriculture Henry Armsby founded the Agricultural Experiment Station, which helped to put Penn State on the map in the context of scientific research. Impressed with these accomplishments, the state legislature authorized regular appropriations to the college beginning in 1887. Also under Atherton's leadership, Penn State graduated its first international student (1890) and African American student (1905).

Through the first half of the 1900s, Penn State focused on undergraduate education and outreach. Enrollment surpassed 5,000 in 1936, by which time the college had become the Commonwealth's largest source of baccalaureate degrees. Also in the 1930s, the administration of President Ralph Hetzel launched a series of branch campuses throughout Pennsylvania for students who, because of Depression-era economics, could not afford to leave home to get a college education. The centers offered the first year or two of undergraduate studies and were the predecessors of today's system of campuses located throughout the Commonwealth.

At first, outreach programs were mainly agricultural. Penn State pioneered in correspondence courses, disseminating scientific knowledge to farmers eager to find more efficient ways of growing crops and raising livestock. The college also worked with local and federal governments to implement a statewide system of agricultural and home economics agents who advised on issues as diverse as family life, nutrition, and food preservation. But by the 1930s, Penn State also had begun outreach programs in the liberal arts, engineering, and the sciences.

Research developed more slowly. Nevertheless, by 1950 Penn State had won distinction for investigations in dairy science, acoustics, building insulation, diesel engines, and other specialized fields. In 1953, The Pennsylvania State College became The Pennsylvania State University to show that its research activities could stand on the same level as teaching and outreach. (The name change touched off a debate about the wisdom of changing the name of State College borough, but in the end the borough's name survived while the campus got the postal address of University Park.)

In the 1960s, Penn State underwent tremendous expansion to meet the growing needs of the baby boom generation, just then coming of college age. The physical plant tripled in value, and hundreds of acres of farm and forest land were added (land now occupied, for example, by Innovation Park at Penn State and by the Russell Larson Agricultural Research Center at Rock Springs). Total enrollment at all campuses climbed to 40,000 by 1970.

Today, enrollment stands at about 83,000 students at 24 locations statewide, including The Milton S. Hershey Medical Center — a college of medicine and teaching hospital — established in 1967; the Pennsylvania College of Technology, a wholly owned Penn State affiliate since 1989; and The Dickinson School of Law, merged with the University in 1997. Penn State continues to make an important impact on life in Pennsylvania in many ways. Over 241,000 alumni — more than half of all living Penn State alumni — live and work in the Commonwealth. Undergraduates today can choose from about 160 courses of study. At the graduate level, Penn State awards more Ph. D.'s than any other institution in the Commonwealth. Penn State research generates 14,000 jobs and has affiliations with more than 400 Pennsylvania companies. Research activity has propelled Penn State into the nation's top ten universities in receiving patents, which typically generate business, jobs, and economic growth among spin-off companies.

After nearly 150 years of growth and change, Penn State remains committed, in the land-grant tradition, to make available a high-quality education at the lowest possible cost, and to nurture a learning environment that welcomes a diversity of cultures and ideas.

NITTANY LION LEGEND

Penn State's athletic symbol, chosen by the student body in 1906, is the mountain lion which once roamed central Pennsylvania.

H.D. "Joe" Mason, a member of the Class of 1907, conducted a one-man campaign to choose a school mascot after seeing the Princeton tiger on a trip with the Penn State baseball team to that New Jersey campus. A student publication sponsored the campaign to select a mascot and Penn State is believed to be the first college to adopt the lion as a mascot.

Since Penn State is located in the Nittany Valley at the foot of Mount Nittany, the lion was designated as a Nittany Lion. In regional folklore, Nittany (or Nita-Nee) was a valorous Indian princess in whose honor the Great Spirit caused Mount Nittany to be formed. A later namesake, daughter of chief O-Ko-Cho, who lived near the mouth of Penn's Creek, fell in love with Malachi Boyer, a trader. The tearful maiden and her lost lover became legend and her name was given to the stately mountain.

THE NITTANY LION SHRINE

Penn State's Nittany Lion shrine was dedicated on Oct. 24, 1942, during Homecoming Weekend. Animal sculptor Heinz Warneke and stonecutter Joseph Garatti molded a 13-ton block of Indiana limestone into the most recognizable symbol of Penn State. The shrine was chosen from six models submitted by Warneke.

The shrine is a gift of the Class of 1940 and rests in a natural setting of trees near Recreation Building. The site was chosen because of its accessibility, the surrounding trees and the fact that the sculpture would not be dwarfed by nearby buildings.

BLUE & WHITE

Penn State's student-athletes are instantly identified by their blue and white uniforms — but those weren't the original school colors.

A three-member committee representing the sophomore, junior and senior classes was appointed in October of 1887 to develop color options from which the student body would select the school's official colors. Dark pink and black was the unanimous choice of the student body after considering the color combinations presented by the committee.

Soon many students and the baseball team were sporting pink and black striped blazers and caps. However, problems arose when the pink faded to white after several weeks of exposure to the sun. The students then opted for blue, rather than black, and white. The official announcement of the new choice was made on March 18, 1890.

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT DR. GRAHAM SPANIER

As leader of one of the nation's largest and most-respected universities, with 38,000 employees on 24 campuses, an annual budget of more than $3 billion and a physical plant of 1,400 buildings, Graham Spanier has been identified nationally as a president who is making a difference.

During his tenure, Dr. Spanier has launched a number of historic initiatives that have helped elevate Penn State's reputation, while positioning it as a model student-centered university.

Dr. Spanier has overseen the creation of The Schreyer Honors College, the Penn State World Campus, the College of Information Sciences and Technology, and new programs in Forensic Sciences and Security and Risk Analysis. He has promoted increased internationalization of the University, expanded Penn State's outreach to citizens of Pennsylvania, and promoted the expansion of the School of Law. He led the University's most recent fundraising campaign, raising nearly $1.4 billion, and is overseeing the largest building program in the history of Penn State. Under his leadership, sponsored research at Penn State has increased dramatically to $638 million annually.

As part of his goal to better serve students, President Spanier has created a number of groundbreaking initiatives such as LateNight Penn State, a Newspaper Readership Program that has become a national model for universities across the country and an online music service that dozens of other institutions have emulated. Dr. Spanier is a magician who once served as the opening act for Penn and Teller. He substitutes for the Nittany Lion mascot and has performed with Penn State's Musical Theatre students, Blue Band, and the Chamber Orchestra. In addition, he plays washboard with The Deacons of Dixieland band and the Phyrst Phamly. He holds a commercial pilot's license and has run with the bulls in Pamplona. He also hosts his own live, viewer-call-in program on public television and radio.

Dr. Spanier's prior positions include chancellor of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, provost and vice president for academic affairs at Oregon State University, and vice provost for undergraduate studies at the State University of New York at Stony Brook. He previously served Penn State as a member of the faculty and in three administrative positions. He holds academic appointments as professor of human development and family studies, sociology, demography, and family and community medicine.

A national leader in higher education, Dr. Spanier served as chair of the Board of Directors of the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges and the Big Ten Conference Council of Presidents/Chancellors. He currently serves as chair of the National Security Higher Education Advisory Board, is a member of the National Counterintelligence Working Group, and is co-chair of the Committee on Higher Education and the Entertainment Industry. He is a member of the Bowl Championship Series Presidential Oversight Committee, vice chair of the Worldwide Universities Network, and was a founding member of the Internet2 board. He served as chair of the NCAA Division I Board of Directors, led the Kellogg Commission on the Future of State and Land-Grant Universities, served on the Board of Trustees of the National 4-H Council, is a member of the Board of Directors of Junior Achievement International, and served as chair of the Board of the Christian Children's Fund.

His wife, Sandra, is an English professor specializing in 20th-century American literature and serves as the general editor of Hemingway's letters. Their son and daughter are both Penn State graduates: Brian, a finance graduate, and Hadley, a graduate in marketing.

➤ University President Dr. Graham Spanier is hoisted by students during THON, an event that has raised millions for childhood cancer.

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS TIM CURLEY

In his second decade as the architect of the Penn State Intercollegiate Athletics program, Tim Curley's dynamic and passionate leadership has been the driving force behind the Nittany Lions' tremendous level of athletic and academic achievement.

Named Director of Athletics on December 30, 1993, Curley celebrated 30 years as a member of the Nittany Lions' athletics staff this past year. A 1976 Penn State graduate, Curley has seen Nittany Lion squads capture 11 NCAA Championships, 43 Big Ten titles and numerous individual national and conference crowns during his 12-plus years directing Penn State's comprehensive athletic program.

During the 2005 fall semester, Penn State won an unprecedented five Big Ten Championships — in field hockey, football, men's soccer, women's soccer and women's volleyball — becoming the first school to win more than three titles in the fall season in the 110-year history of the Big Ten Conference. Nittany Lions teams compiled an incredible 49-1 record against Big Ten competition in the fall.

The women's swimming and diving team won its second consecutive Big Ten title to give Penn State a school-record six Big Ten Championships in 2005-06. The men's volleyball team won the EIVA title and played in the NCAA Championship match. Seventeen squads were represented in their respective NCAA Championships, with five teams finishing in the Top 10.

Include the 25 All-Americans and 49 first-team All-Big Ten selections, another NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship winner and a student-athlete Graduation Success Rate of 87 percent and 2005-06 was another triumphant year of Success With Honor for the Nittany Lions.

This past year also saw Curley serve as president of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA). He was the first Penn State Athletic Director to serve as president of NACDA, which is a professional and educational association for more than 6,100 athletic administrators at more than 1,600 institutions in the United States, Canada and Mexico. Curley was elected a NACDA officer in 2002.

As he surveys the athletic program he has been instrumental in assembling over the past 30 years, Tim Curley can't help but be proud of the athletic and academic accomplishments of Penn State's 750 student-athletes in 29 varsity sports:

✔ During a visit to the University Park campus, NCAA President Myles Brand stated, "Penn State is the poster child for doing it right in college sports."

✔ In the initial 13 years of the NACDA Directors' Cup all-sports survey, Penn State has finished in the top 25 every year, earning seven top 10 finishes and four top five placings. The Nittany Lions were No. 2 in the fall 2005 rankings and finished No. 15.

✔ In the most recent comprehensive look at the 117 colleges and universities participating in Division I football and men's basketball, U.S. News and World Report selected Penn State as one of 10 Division I-A institutions for its College Sports Honor Roll in 2002. Data on gender equity, number of varsity sports, graduation rates, sanctions, and wins and losses were analyzed to determine the listing.

✔ Penn State has captured 11 NCAA Championships in men's and women's volleyball, men's and women's fencing and men's gymnastics during Curley's tenure. Nittany Lion and Lady Lion teams have made 21 NCAA "Final Four" appearances during his tenure.

✔ Penn State also has established a reputation as a force in the highly competitive Big Ten — winning 47 regular-season or tournament titles in football, baseball, women's basketball, field hockey, men's gymnastics, men's soccer, women's soccer, men's and women's swimming and diving, women's track and field and women's volleyball. The Lions have won 17 Big Ten championships over the past four years, including the school-record six in 2005-06.

✔ In January 2006, the NCAA reported that Penn State student-athletes earned an 87 percent Graduation Success Rate, 10 points higher than the national Division I-A average. Nineteen of Penn State's 25 teams recorded a GSR of 80 percent or higher (track and field and cross country count as one sport).

Penn State's four-year federal graduation rate average (80 percent) was second-highest in the Big Ten to Northwestern and significantly higher than the 62 percent national average.

Of the Penn State student-athletes in the NCAA studies from 1989-90 through 1998-99 who exhausted their eligibility, 94 percent left with their diplomas.

✔ Twice in the past four years, Penn State student-athletes have posted the highest graduation rate among the nation's public institutions, tied with the University of Virginia at 83 percent according to the 2004 NCAA survey. Penn State and Virginia tied for the sixth-highest graduation rate overall among the nation's 117 Division I-A institutions.

✔ The 2005 NCAA report also showed that Penn State's African-American student-athletes posted an 82 percent Graduation Success Rate, substantially higher than the 60 percent national average.

✔ During the 2005 Fall semester, a record 199 Penn State student-athletes earned a 3.50 grade-point average or higher to gain Dean's List recognition (minimum of 12 credits). A total of 435 student-athletes earned a GPA of 3.0 or above, just seven off the record of 442. The 435 total represented 59 percent of active student-athletes, one percent below the record 60 percent set in the Fall of 2003 and '04.

✔ During the 2005-06 academic year, 243 Penn State student-athletes received Academic All-Big Ten honors, the third-highest total in the 12 years of the program. Over the past 12 years, Penn State leads all Big Ten institutions with 2,553 academic all-conference honorees.

✔ Five student-athletes earned CoSIDA Academic All-America accolades in 2005-06, giving Penn State 121 such selections, with 78 in the last 12 years under Curley's leadership.

Curley was recognized for his efforts in helping Penn State maintain its stature as one of the nation's premier athletic programs in 2003 with his selection as the Northeast Athletic Director-of-the-Year by NACDA. He was one of just four regional Division I-A honorees.

To continue to give the coaching staff and student-athletes the resources to succeed academically and athletically, Curley is guiding the most ambitious fund-raising and athletics facilities campaigns in the department's history. The initial goal is to raise $100 million for Intercollegiate Athletics by June 2008.

In 2003, ICA announced that it had raised more than $134 million in the seven-year Grand Destiny Campaign, easily surpassing the initial and revised goals of $90 and $125 million, respectively, in private funding for Athletics.

The most recently completed capital project is a new baseball stadium for the Nittany Lions — Medlar Field at Lubrano Park. Penn State will share the state-of-the-art facility with a short-season minor league team — the State College Spikes — owned by the Altoona Curve franchise. Curley played a significant role in developing the unique partnership with the Curve organization. The 5,406-seat stadium opened to rave reviews in June 2006.

Slated to open this fall in Rec Hall is a new student fitness center and expanded and renovated wrestling practice, locker room and strength training facilities.

The 12,500-seat expansion and renovation of Beaver Stadium was completed in 2001, raising the capacity to 107,282. The project included private suite and club level seating previously unavailable and the construction of the magnificent Penn State All-Sports Museum to house Penn State's impressive collection of sports memorabilia.

Other facility projects completed in recent years include the construction of the Lasch Football Building, Ashenfelter Indoor Multi-Sport Facility and Sarni Tennis Center and renovations to the White Building, East Area Locker Room, Jeffrey Field and a new field hockey facility.

Curley also oversees the expansive intramural/club sport programs — which included a fourth-consecutive national championship in men's ice hockey in 2003 and the women's rugby national tile in 2004 — on the University Park campus, as well as general recreational activities. He's charged as well with responsibility for the athletic and recreational programs at Penn State's Commonwealth Campuses.

It is a dizzying pace for Curley, who is a regular presence at athletic events, team banquets, alumni meetings and regional and national meetings of athletic administrators.

In 2004, Curley was appointed to a special NCAA task-force that reviewed Division I recruiting bylaws and to the NCAA Division I Football Issues Committee, a group which he chairs. The NCAA Division I Football Issues Committee is charged with oversight of all issues pertaining to NCAA Division I-A and I-AA football.

Curley previously was a member of the NCAA Division I Championships/Competition Cabinet and served as chair of the NCAA Postseason Bowl Certification Sub-Committee.

It is no exaggeration to say Tim Curley is someone who knows the Penn State athletic program from the ground up. A State College product, he grew up across the street from Old Beaver Field where some of his most memorable days as a youngster were spent there and in Rec Hall. He parked cars, sold game programs and served as a baseball batboy.

The top assistant to Athletic Director Jim Tarman, Curley was named Director of Athletics on December 30, 1993, when Tarman retired after 35 years as a Penn State athletic administrator.

Curley, 52, has been a full-time member of the athletic staff since he joined the department as a graduate assistant football coach. A product of State College Area High School where he played basketball and football for Jim Williams' undefeated 1971 team, Curley walked on as a football player only to have his career cut short by injuries. After earning his Bachelor's degree in health and physical education in 1976, he served a year as a graduate assistant coach while pursuing his Master's degree in counselor education.

Curley was named the Lions' first full-time football recruiting coordinator in 1978 and was instrumental in identifying and recruiting a number of members of the 1982 national championship team. In 1981, he was named assistant to the athletic director where he was involved with the day-to-day operations of the department.

Curley was active in the development of the Academic Support Center for Student-Athletes, the Penn State Sports Medicine Center, the Varsity "S" Club and the Football Letterman's Club during his tenure as assistant to the athletic director. He also was instrumental in putting in place Penn State's first NCAA compliance program and acted as the department's compliance coordinator for five years before surrendering those responsibilities when he was named Associate Athletic Director in 1992.

He is married to the former Melinda Harr of Washington, Pa., and has two children — a daughter, Devon, and a son, Tanner. Curley was born on April 28, 1954.

INTERVIEW & CREDENTIAL POLICIES

This publication about the 2006 Penn State Women's Volleyball team has been prepared to aid members of the media covering the Nittany Lions this season. Additional information is available by contacting Jen Armson in the Penn State Athletic Communications Office at (814) 865-1757.

CREDENTIALS

Members of the media should contact the Penn State Athletic Communications Office to request season or individual game credentials for Nittany Lion volleyball home matches. The press row at Rec Hall is located on the upper track level of the building on the south side.

Individual game requests should be made no later than noon the day prior to the game and should be directed to Jen Armson, Assistant Athletic Communications Director, at (814) 865-1757 or jma19@psu.edu, or faxed on official letterhead to Armson's attention at (814) 863-3165. Credentials will be available for pick-up at the Rec Hall Will Call window the evening of the contest.

Members of the media are allowed to park in the Nittany Parking Deck adjacent to the Nittany Lion Inn, where they are allowed to park for free with their credential.

INTERVIEW POLICIES

Please direct all requests for interviews with coaches or players to Armson. Members of the Penn State coaching staff are usually available during weekday mornings and afternoon practices and are available after matches.

Members of the volleyball team will be available for interviews before and after scheduled practices, but will not be available for interviews on the day of a game, home or away, until the post-game press conference. After home matches, head coach Russ Rose and requested players will be available for interviews in Rec Hall, room 142. Contact Armson for individual post-match interviews and away match requests. Players will return telephone calls; home and cell phone numbers will not be released.

For opposing players and coaches, please contact Armson who will alert the visiting SID, if available, or set up interviews if possible.

Penn State adheres to the NCAA photography policies. Photographers are permitted on the volleyball court but must remain in the designated area.

E-MAIL AND WEB UPDATES

While game notes and updated stats will be distributed to local media via email and the web on a regular basis, members of the media may request that they be added to the Penn State Athletic Communications Office's women's volleyball e-mail group. Subscribers will receive game notes, game stories and other information via e-mail. To subscribe, send a request to jma19@psu.edu. Please identify yourself and organization in your request as this service is only available to members of the media.

TELEPHONES

There will be at least one phone provided on press row for media to make calling card or collect phone calls. Please alert Jen Armson if additional phone lines are needed, and arrangements will be made. Furthermore, additional phone lines and a fax machine will be provided in the Rec Hall Media Room (Room 301).

DAILY MEDIA SERVICES

For the most up-to-date Nittany Lion volleyball news and statistics, visit the official website of the Penn State Athletic Department at www.GoPSUsports.com. Game notes and updated statistics for the upcoming match will be posted no later than the day before the contest.

GAMEDAY MEDIA SERVICES

The Penn State Athletic Communications staff will provide pre-match notes, scorecards, rosters, updated statistics and results for each team in the Rec Hall Media Room (Room 301, adjacent to press row off of the track) prior to each match. Box scores and any postmatch notes will be distributed approximately 10 minutes after the conclusion of the match at the post-match press conference.

An Associated Press-style game story will also be produced by the Penn State Athletic Communications Office. Members of the media may request these stories be sent to their organization via fax or e-mail by contacting a member of the Penn State Athletic Communications Staff.

PENN STATE ATHLETIC COMMUNICATIONS OFFICE

The Penn State Athletic Communications Office is located in 101 of the Bryce Jordan Center. The entrance is located off University Drive using the Orange Lot West parking lot.

Official's Stand
* There are no Photo Zones on the South side of the court (benches/scorer's table).
* Four Photo Zone seats are on the North bleachers. Seats are reserved for credentialed photographers on a first-come, first-served basis. You must be seated on the bleacher seat - or directly in front of the bleacher with your back touching. If sitting on the floor, your feet must be tucked underneath you and all bags/equipment must be kept out of play at all times. This is a playable area.
* You may shoot from the mid-level or track as long as you do not block the view of spectators.
* Two Photo Zones are on the East and West sides of the gym. During all regular-season games, photographers have the entire side of the opposite court where Penn State is playing. PSU cheerleaders are required to cheer behind the PSU team and they will switch sides when the team does. Actual Photo Zones are not marked on the floor but photographers are asked to remain behind the white line marked on the floor about 10 feet from the endline. Please keep this area clear of bags/equipment as it is a playable area. Servers have the entire baseline for use.
* Protocol may change slightly for NCAA Championship matches.
* Thank you in advance for your cooperation.
